That's a serious look. Everything OK?

I wish I could have known Great-Grandpa Brown.

What you told us about him sounded cool.

He was a really good man.

You'll see for yourself when you meet him.

What do you mean?

Here's a hint.

What special day do we celebrate this month?

Oh!

Of course, it's...

Easter!

We celebrate Easter because Jesus was resurrected.

So EVERYBODY—like Grandpa Brown—will live again and never die.

That means we'll get to know the people who lived before us.

That's going to be a huge family reunion!
