Fund Helps Members Worldwide Receive Temple Blessings

By Heather Whittle Wrigley

Church News and Events

Since the time he entered the Manila Philippines Temple in July 2001, just before leaving for his mission to Singapore, Riaz Gill of Pakistan knew that he wanted to return to the temple so he could have an eternal family.

In 2007, his wife, Farah, was baptized, but funds were tight and they didn't know when they would be able to make the trip to the temple, more than 3,500 miles (5,700 km) away. With the birth of their son, Ammon Phinehas, in Riaz Gill, his wife, Farah, and son, Ammon Phinehas, were able to attend the Manila Philippines Temple and be sealed as a family in 2010, thanks to the Church's General Temple Patron Assistance Fund.

2009, their desire to be sealed in the temple grew even stronger, and late in 2010, with help from the Church's General Temple Patron Assistance Fund, their prayers were answered.

"Going to the temple with my family has helped to make my testimony stronger," Brother Gill said. "After our temple visit, it seems like I have more to give to the Lord. . . . The temple visit was so good and faith-promoting, it is hard to express in words."

While there, Brother Gill was also able to perform ordinances for his father, grandfather, and father-in-law, who have all passed away. He had the work done for his mother, and he was sealed to his parents.

"It has been a great privilege for me and my family to visit the temple," he said. "I want to give my special thanks with a lot of prayers to the leaders who made this temple trip possible."

Since 1992, the fund, sustained 100 percent by member contributions, has been a way to provide a one-time visit to the temple for members living outside of the United States and Canada who otherwise would not be able to go. Members wishing to donate to the fund simply write in "Temple Patron Fund" on the "Other" section of the normal contribution slip. Individuals can also donate to the fund through LDS Philanthropies.

During general conference in October 2011, President Thomas S. Monson encouraged members to contribute to the General Temple Patron Assistance Fund saying, "There are still areas of the world where temples are so distant from our members that they cannot afford the travel required to get to them. They are thus unable to partake of the sacred and eternal blessings temples provide" ("As We Meet Again," Liahona and Ensign, Nov. 2011, 4–5).

"The intent of this fund was to help those clearly in parts of the world where it would be more challenging to attend the temple," said Elder William R. Walker, Executive Director of the Temple Department. "The one-time provision is to provide for an individual to receive his or her own ordinances."

Some of the greatest demand, Elder Walker said, comes from Africa, the Pacific, and Asia. Stake presidents and mission presidents make recommendations to their Area Presidency, which administers the fund on a country-by-country basis.

During 2009 and 2010, approximately 4,000 members used the fund to travel to a temple for the first—and possibly only—time.

Elder Walker said that in order to bless as many lives as possible, they “look at the temple where [they] can get the most economical airfare. That means it’s not always based on proximity or even on whether or not the temple is in their area.”

Each member who uses the fund is expected to make some sort of sacrifice or contribution.

“In some places just getting a passport would be expensive and very difficult,” Elder Walker said. “So in some areas, where members have to leave their country to go to the temple, they have to supply their own passport to be able to use the fund. In some countries, it’s just a set amount of money. To some it may not seem like much, but for them it may be all they could save in six months.”

Elder Walker said that those who contribute to a goal generally find they appreciate it more. “In almost every case people have done their best to contribute and have been richly blessed, and they have not taken it for granted,” he said.

In addition to making it possible for people to go to the temple, the funds are also used to purchase seven sets of garments for each individual so that they can honor their covenants once they return home.

President Monson's statement during conference was the first time the fund has been announced over the pulpit by the prophet. That, coupled with the growing demand on the fund, will most likely lead to an increase in donations, Elder Walker said.

"We still have people coming into the Church, and we've not nearly satisfied the needs in many areas," he said. Citing the counsel from President Howard W. Hunter (1907–1995) in 1994 that all worthy members carry a temple recommend,¹ he continued, "We have many faithful members of the Church who have current temple recommends but who have not yet been to a temple and don't have an immediate prospect of going to the temple."

Elder Walker said President Monson's announcement of the fund came from his love for temples and his sensitivity to the Saints who are the primary beneficiaries of the fund.

"When you go to these far-away places, you get the feel for the people and the challenges they have," Elder Walker said. "This fund will be to the blessing of many people." ■

Gamification. Cloud-based solutions. GPS-based genealogy. The terms may sound like something straight out of a science fiction book, but these are just a few of the topics genealogists and technologists can expect to cover at RootsTech 2012, which is scheduled for February 2–4 at the Salt Palace Convention Center in Salt Lake City, Utah, USA.

Registration, which is available online only, is now open for the event at rootstech.org. Participants may register for conference passes for $189. Also available are $79 day passes and $35 student passes. Visit the RootsTech website for full details about registration and session offerings.

The conference will bring genealogy technology users and creators together to learn, collaborate, and shape the future of family history, a market whose consumer interest has been growing rapidly in recent years.

Those interested in attending can expect engaging classroom presentations; expert panel discussions; hands-on workshops; and informal, participant-led conferencing. Topics include GPS and geo-mapping, mobile devices, social applications, imaging, and visualization.

RootsTech 2011 set a precedent as a conference for genealogy technology users who are progressive, forward-thinking, and early adopters of devices and tools that simplify family history research. The conference drew more than 3,000 attendees in its inaugural year.

RootsTech is designed to bring technologists together with genealogists to learn from each other and find solutions to the challenges family history researchers face today. The conference's activities and offerings are focused on content that will help genealogists and family historians discover new research tools while enabling technology creators to learn the latest development techniques from industry leaders and pioneers. ■
