Riddle in the Middle

Two sons and two fathers sat down at the table,
 Each of them hungry and perfectly able
 To eat all the food that was placed on their plate.
 They each ate one egg plus a slice of crumb cake.
 So here is the riddle to solve, if you may.
 This meal that was cooked at the end of the day
 Required some eggs from the basket, you see.
 Yet the number of eggs that was needed was three.
How is this possible? Answer on page 48.
