

What are you reading, Mom?

Conference talks by our Church leaders.

But we listened to conference just last month.

We ate breakfast just this morning. Shall we skip lunch?

No, but I don't want pancakes again already. Why do you want more conference?

Oh, sweetheart, conference isn't just pancakes. It's every delicious dish you could imagine and every yummy dessert. We only had time to sample them during conference. Now I'm feasting.

Dessert?

Sit down by me, and let's taste a few of my favorites together.

What are you guys doing?

Isn't it obvious? We're eating dessert.
