What Jesus Taught

When Jesus taught the Sermon on the Mount, He said that we should be generous with others, just like Heavenly Father is generous with us (see Matthew 5:40–45). He said if someone takes away our coat, we should also give him our cloak. If someone asks us to go with him for a mile, we should go with him for two miles. If someone asks to borrow something, we should give it willingly. This is part of loving others.

Following Jesus Today

In school I had to think of something good to say about someone I had bad feelings toward. This person had ripped off my flag in Capture the Flag, and I felt defeated. After I thought about it, I was able to write that she was good at Capture the Flag. Then I felt better. And, hey—she was good at Capture the Flag!

Some of my classmates didn’t like a boy in my class because he had problems they didn’t understand. On Valentine’s Day, I received two suckers and he had nothing, so I gave my suckers to him. At Christmastime, my family helped me do Secret Santa for his family. I felt very happy inside.

This Month’s Challenges

- Do an extra chore without being asked.
- Share a treat with a friend.
- If a sibling asks to borrow something, say yes willingly.
- I challenge myself to . . .
