

Seminary and Institute at a Glance

307

institute classes worldwide have only one student.

152

countries have seminary or institute classes.

1,549

seminary classes worldwide have only one student.

88.8%

of seminary programs gather in a meeting-house or home rather than a seminary-specific building.

9

students form the average seminary class.

592

students make up the largest institute class in the world.

All data taken from 2014–15 records

First seminary opens (near Granite High School in Utah), with 70 students.

Ninety-eight seminary programs in operation.

First early-morning seminary classes held.

1912

1926

1938

1946

1949

1950

First institute classes begin (near the University of Idaho), with 25 students.

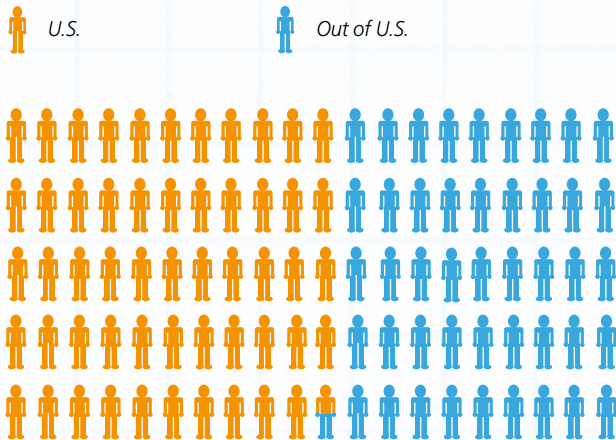

Seventeen institute programs in operation.

Early-morning seminary program begins in 11 stakes in California.

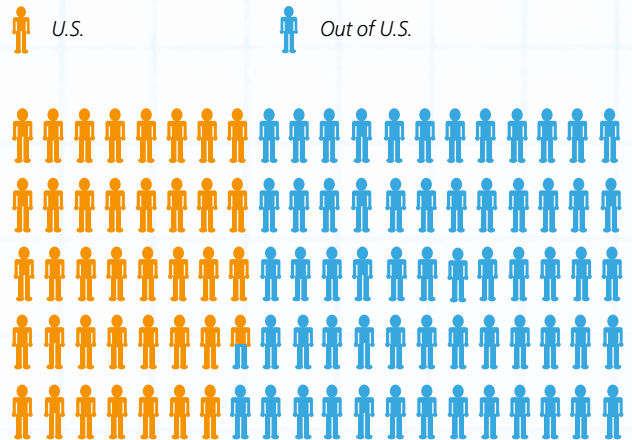

Seminary Enrollment

Around the world, 404,270 students are enrolled in seminary:

- 220,717 (U.S.)
- 183,553 (out of U.S.)

Institute Enrollment

Around the world, 357,760 students are enrolled in institute:

- 137,740 (U.S.)
- 220,020 (out of U.S.)

Teachers

Globally, more than 48,000 members teach seminary and institute. Only 6.4% are full-time or part-time instructors.

