

Kevin and Kendra Henderson

North Carolina, USA

At first, Kendra was against Kevin's interest in the Church. Now they look back and see how the Lord guided them both to the gospel.

Kevin:

I told Heavenly Father that I would do anything if He would let me know the path He wanted me to take. When I thought about baptism, I felt this rush, like the wind, come over me. It was the Holy Ghost telling me, "This is what you must do."

Kendra:

I was a little hesitant when we set a date for my baptism. The missionaries came over, and we talked about it.

Finally, I asked my daughter, Aryanna, "Do you want to be baptized?"

She said, "Mom, I'm ready whenever you are."

At Aryanna's baptism, she cried tears of joy. When I saw her, I thought, I'm where I need to be.

Kevin:

I know Heavenly Father brought the gospel to our family because He loves and cares about us so much.
