The Friend is my best friend. One day I was reading the Friend and I read a story about a girl who had a bad dream. She decided to ask her mom about how to get rid of them. Her mom told her to pray and ask Heavenly Father to bless her to not have any more bad dreams. After I read the story, I thought I should try to do the same thing, so I did. Now I never have bad dreams.

I would like to compliment the Friend on the stories you tell. They have taught me to think before I act, to tell the truth, and to be kind to and look out for others. The stories make learning interesting and help me think about what is really important. I still have a ways to go to be the best I can be, but the Friend has definitely helped me on the way. The stories that affect me the most are the ones that relate to my struggles. Thank you, Friend!

The Sunday before Easter is Palm Sunday. On that Sunday nearly 2,000 years ago Jesus Christ entered the city of Jerusalem during the final week of His mortal life. He rode in on a donkey, and as He did so, a great multitude came out to greet the Master and carpeted the path before Him with palm leaves, flowering branches, and even their own garments. As He approached, they cried, “Blessed be the King that cometh in the name of the Lord” and “Hosanna to the Son of David.”

During the week from Palm Sunday to Easter morning we turn our thoughts to Jesus Christ. The gospel is the good news of Christ. It is the revelation that the Son of God came to earth, lived a perfect life, atoned for our sins, and conquered death. It is the path of salvation, the way of hope and joy.

The gospel is the way of discipleship. As we walk in that way, we can experience confidence and joy. You and I can walk in the path of discipleship today. Now is the time.

I bear my solemn witness that Jesus the Christ lives. He is the Savior and Redeemer of the world. He is the promised Messiah. He lived a perfect life and atoned for our sins. He will ever be at our side. He will fight our battles. He is our hope; He is our salvation; He is the way. Of this I testify.

NOTES
How to Follow Jesus Christ
How can you follow Jesus Christ? Following Him begins with learning about Him, having faith in Him, and trying to do what He taught. My Gospel Standards can help you follow His path and be a good example to people around you.

Turn the page to find out about some special stories and activities in this issue that will help you stay on the Savior’s path.

Hosanna!
When Jesus Christ rode into Jerusalem on a donkey, the people showed they honored Him by placing palm leaves on the dusty path. They used the word Hosanna, a joyful word that means “save us now.”

Number the pictures to show the order of events after Jesus arrived in Jerusalem.

- He was resurrected on Easter morning.
- He gave the sacrament to His Apostles so they could remember Him.
- He showed Himself to His Apostles.
- He suffered for our sins in the Garden of Gethsemane.
- He died on the cross and lay in a tomb.
- He returned to heaven.
- He will come again.
- He died on the cross and lay in a tomb.
The standards in My Gospel Standards will help you follow Jesus Christ and stay on the path that will take you to the temple.

Here’s how to play:

1. Each step on the path has a black-and-white symbol that stands for one of the gospel standards.

2. Look through the magazine for matching symbols. When you find one, read the story or do the activity on that page. Then cut out the symbol and glue or tape it on the path.

3. Write the gospel standard in the blank under the symbol (see the My Gospel Standards poster on page 6).

4. When you reach your goal, add a picture of yourself to the space by the temple. You can either draw a picture of yourself or cut out a picture of yourself and tape or glue it in the space.

5. Print more copies of this activity at lds.org/friend.

All right, everyone. Let’s have talk time,” Mom called. Josie had been looking forward to talk time all day. Every evening, Josie and her two little brothers, Ben and Wes, gathered in the living room with Mom and Dad to talk about what was going on in their lives.

Tonight Dad had said he would help Josie practice her script for the morning announcements. Reading the morning announcements was a special privilege at Josie’s school. Tomorrow Josie would play a small part of her favorite song over the school’s speakers and use the microphone to announce the day’s activities and lunch menu.

Josie ran to the living room, excited to rehearse her script.

“There’s our famous announcer!” Dad said when Josie hopped on the couch next to him. “How are you feeling about tomorrow?”

“I’m excited but a little nervous. I’m afraid I’ll mess something up in front of the whole school,” Josie said.

“That’s why we practice,” Dad said. “Go ahead and read through your script, and I will listen for places you can improve.”

“Thanks, Dad,” Josie said.

She and Dad reviewed the script so many times that Josie lost count. Then Josie stood and performed her script one last time for her family. Mom and Dad cheered. Ben gave her a high five, and Wes smiled and clapped his hands.

Josie went to bed happy and confident.

The next day everything went smoothly. Even though she was nervous, Josie smiled when she heard her music play on the school’s speakers. She was glad she had practiced the script with Dad, and she read it slowly and clearly without any mistakes.

“You did an excellent job,” Mrs. Blake, the assistant principal, said.

At the end of the school day, Josie stood in line for the bus. An older boy turned around and asked, “Are you the girl who read the announcements today?”

Josie smiled. “Yes,” she said.

“Why did you pick that song?” the boy asked.

“It was a dumb song. You really ruined morning announcements.” Then he called her a mean name and laughed with his friends.

Josie sat alone in the front seat of the bus. She felt sick to her stomach.

When Josie got home, she found Mom playing with Wes.

“Mom, I know it’s not talk time yet, but I was wondering if we could still talk right now,” Josie said.

“Of course, Josie,” Mom said. “What happened? Did something go wrong with the morning announcements?”

“No,” Josie said. “Everything was perfect. At least I thought so, until a boy told me I picked a dumb song. He called me a really mean name too.”

Mom patted the floor next to her. Josie walked over and sat down. Mom gave her a big hug. Josie and Mom talked about everything that happened that day, including Mrs. Blake’s compliment.

“I’m sorry that boy and his friends were rude to you,” Mom said. “But it sounds like other people you respect, like Mrs. Blake, were very pleased with the way you read the announcements. Dad and I are so proud of you. You worked very hard, and it paid off!”

Josie hugged Mom again. “Thanks, Mom,” Josie said. “I feel a lot better.” Josie was glad that any time could be talk time.

“Nothing is more important to the relationship between family members than open, honest communication.”

Elder M. Russell Ballard of the Quorum of the Twelve Apostles
Here are some suggestions for having your own family “talk time”:

• Ask your parents about setting aside a few minutes each day for your family to talk together.

CONVERSATION GAMES

Need some ideas for talk time? Try these games:

Beanbag Toss: If your family is large or has a hard time taking turns, use a beanbag to show whose turn it is to talk. After the person with the beanbag says what he or she would like to say, toss the beanbag to another family member to take a turn to talk.

Interviewer: Split into groups of two and take turns pretending to be interviewers. Think of a few questions for your partner and then ask him or her questions. You can even use a real microphone or sound recorder for your interviews.

What Would You Do? Take turns asking your family different questions that begin with “What would you do . . . ?” Some examples are “What would you do if you got lost?” and “What would you do if you could go anywhere in the world?”

HELP FOR PARENTS: ONE-ON-ONE TIME

As fun as it is to talk as a family, it is also important for parents and children to spend one-on-one time together. Take advantage of moments during the day to visit with your children individually. Invite one child at a time to help you complete a household chore, accompany you on an errand, or chat with you in your room for a few minutes. Just a few short moments can lead to meaningful conversations.

Find more ideas for talking together in “Taking Time to Talk and Listen” by Primary general president Sister Rosemary M. Wixom on page 10 of this month’s Ensign.

Easter Bouquet

White Easter lilies remind us of the Resurrection. They are buried in the ground as bulbs. In springtime they bloom as beautiful, sweet-smelling flowers. This reminds us of how Jesus was laid in the tomb and then came forth on Easter morning.

To make your own Easter lilies, you will need white construction paper, a pencil or crayon, scissors, tape, and one yellow and one green pipe cleaner for each lily.

1. Use the pencil or crayon to trace your hand on the white paper. Cut out the shape.
2. Roll the handprint into a cone shape, and tape it along the side.
3. Roll each finger down the outside to form the curls of the bloom.
4. Cut a three-inch piece of the yellow pipe cleaner and form it into a U shape. Curl the ends to form the center of the lily.
5. Wrap one end of the green pipe cleaner around the middle of the yellow pipe cleaner.
6. Place the other end of the green pipe cleaner into the curly end of the lily and pull it through.

Make a whole bouquet for an Easter centerpiece!

Bird Nest Snacks

6 ounces (170 g) chocolate chips
3 cups fiber cereal
jelly beans or other small candies

1. Line a cookie sheet with waxed paper.
2. Place the cereal in a large bowl.
3. Put the chocolate chips in a medium bowl and microwave for 30 seconds. Remove bowl, stir, and microwave for another 30 seconds. Repeat until the chocolate is melted and smooth.
4. Pour the chocolate over the cereal and stir until all the cereal is coated.
5. Use a spoon to scoop the mixture onto the waxed paper.
6. While the scoops are still warm but not hot, shape them into nests.
7. Decorate each nest with a few candies.
Each month this year you can write a little bit of your own history in your journal. This month write about your baptism. How old were you? Were you baptized in a church building or another place, like a swimming pool or a lake? Who was at your baptism? If you haven’t been baptized yet, you can write what you can do to prepare for baptism.

Book of Mormon Numbers

Last year, the 150 millionth copy of the Book of Mormon was printed. If you put that many copies of the Book of Mormon end to end, the line would stretch almost all the way around the world!
Sabbath-day Activities

I will do those things on the Sabbath that will help me feel close to Heavenly Father and Jesus Christ (My Gospel Standards).

When Sunday comes around, do you sometimes think too much about the things you can’t do? Well, there are lots of things you can do to enjoy the Sabbath and still keep it holy. We asked Church magazine readers what they do on the Sabbath, and here are some of their answers.

- Make assignments for that week’s family home evening. We also plan the week’s activities, including giving service.
- Read old Friend magazines.
- Take a walk as a family.
- Play family games.
- Visit or call family, or write letters or e-mails.
- Work on Faith in God or Cub Scout achievements that are appropriate for the Sabbath.
- Visit people who are alone. Make a craft for them or sing them a song.
- Chose an ancestor and research and write down their life events. Spend the day getting to know your ancestors!
- Find someone to serve. Ask the nurses at a hospital which patients don’t get visitors, then visit those people.
- Have a journal club. Get together with journals and pens and write and talk about the past week.
- Pick a prophet for the day and discover interesting facts about him.
- Have church music playing throughout your house.
- Read out loud from the life stories of your ancestors.

FHE Assignment

OK. I get to be Nephi!

Let’s pretend like we’re Lehi’s family.
One day Enos went into the forest to hunt. Walking alone through the trees, he started thinking about what his father had taught him.

All his life Enos had heard his father, Jacob, teach about Jesus Christ. Jacob was a prophet to the Nephites. He had seen a vision of Jesus Christ, who would be born about 500 years later.

Enos had not always done what his father taught him. As he hunted, he thought about his sins. He began to feel hungry—not hungry for food, but hungry to be forgiven for his wrongdoings.
Enos stopped hunting. He knelt and began to pray. Hour after hour, all day long, he prayed for forgiveness. When the night came, he was still raising his voice to heaven in prayer.

At last, a voice came to him saying, "Enos, thy sins are forgiven thee, and thou shalt be blessed." Enos knew that God could not lie. His guilty feelings were swept away, and he knew Heavenly Father had forgiven him. Heavenly Father said the reason Enos could be forgiven was that he had faith in Christ.

Filled with joy and faith, Enos started thinking about his people, the Nephites. He prayed for them and asked God to bless them. The Lord’s voice came into his mind, telling him that the Nephites would be blessed as they kept the commandments.

Now Enos had more faith than ever. He began praying for the Lamanites. The Lamanites and the Nephites were enemies, and many times they had fought terrible battles. Still, Enos prayed for the Lamanites.

Enos asked that if the Nephites were destroyed that the sacred records written on plates would be preserved. He wanted the Lamanites to someday read those records and know about God. The Lord told Enos that the plates would be saved.

Enos spent the rest of his life teaching the people about faith in Jesus Christ.

Nephites and Lamanites

The Nephites and Lamanites were both descendants of Lehi, who left Jerusalem before Enos lived. In the New World, Lehi’s sons Laman and Lemuel and their families became the Lamanites. The families of Lehi’s sons Sam, Nephi, Jacob, Joseph, and their sisters became the Nephites.

Plates

Ancient people often wrote their history on metal plates of gold or brass. The plates were actually thin pages of a book. The words were written by pushing a sharp tool into the metal.
I will be honest with Heavenly Father, others, and myself (My Gospel Standards).

Joseph was almost to the edge of the park when he noticed something in the grass. “Maybe a bag of trash got scattered by the wind,” he thought.

As he got closer, a glint of light caught his attention. This wasn’t trash. Joseph saw a checkbook, keys, and a calculator lying near a purse. What cool stuff to find! Finders keepers, right?

Joseph was about to put the stuff in his pockets when he thought, “This isn’t mine. If I lost something, I’d want it back. Whoever this belongs to probably wants it back too.”

So instead he gathered up the scattered things, stuffed them in the purse, and carried it all back to Mom.
“Oh, dear,” Mom said, “It looks like someone’s been robbed.”

Together she and Joseph looked through the things until they found a phone number. Mom called the number while Joseph watched. When she hung up Joseph asked, “Who was it? What did they say?”

“The lady who answered was very excited when I told her what you found,” Mom said. “Her purse was stolen yesterday at the mall. We’re going to go there now to take everything back to her.”

When they walked into the mall, a woman hurried up to them. “Thank you, thank you!” she said. “Young man, you’ve answered my prayers!”

Joseph smiled and handed her the purse. “I’m sorry you got robbed,” he said.

The lady handed Joseph a 20-dollar bill. “This is a reward for your honesty,” she said.

Joseph shook his head. “I don’t need to be paid to be honest. I’m honest because I try to follow Jesus.”

“Then use this money for Jesus,” the woman whispered. Joseph could see tears in her eyes.

As Joseph took the money he looked at Mom. “Do we have a pass-along card?” he asked.

“We sure do,” Mom said, and she pulled one out of her purse.

Joseph gave the card to the lady. “If you call the phone number on this card, you can get a movie about Jesus,” he said.

“Thank you,” the lady said as she shook Joseph’s hand. “I’m very glad to have met you.”

As Joseph got back in the car, Mom asked, “What will you do with the money?”

“The lady told me to use it for Jesus. I guess that means using it for His Church,” Joseph said. “I’ll give two dollars for tithing, some for the Perpetual Education Fund, some for the Humanitarian Aid Fund, and the rest for my mission fund.”

As he told mom his plans, Joseph had a warm feeling in his chest. It felt good to be honest and to use his reward money for a worthy cause.

One day at recess the playground aid found a teddy-bear keychain and asked whose it was. It was cute and I wanted it, so I said it was mine. That night I felt so bad about it I couldn’t sleep. I got out of bed and told my mom, and we talked about what I should do. The next day I put the keychain in the lost and found at school. I was happy and knew I had done the right thing. I am glad I have the Holy Ghost to help me know what to do, and I’m glad I can repent.

Mary D., age 8, Arizona
Maria and Diana D. are not just sisters; they are best friends too. Diana is 10 years old, and Maria recently turned 12. They live in Romania, where there are about 3,000 members of the Church. They keep their faith in Jesus Christ strong by going to church, reading the scriptures, and praying.

“In church I’ve learned to have faith in God,” Maria says. One day she had a test, so she prayed to Heavenly Father in the name of Jesus Christ for help. When she got a good grade, she felt like Heavenly Father had helped her.

Diana says the Book of Mormon helps her have faith. “Every day that I read the Book of Mormon, I have a good day,” she says. Her favorite scripture story is the story of Joseph Smith. “He prayed, and God and Jesus Christ helped him,” she says.
FAVORITE SONG
Maria and Diana both play the piano. Maria’s favorite song is “Love One Another.” It is about Jesus’s commandment to love other people. Diana can almost play it perfectly, but the end is the hardest part, she says.

I LOVE TO SEE THE TEMPLE
Maria and Diana both want to be married in the temple one day. They live in the Kyiv Ukraine Temple District. When Diana is older, she will go to the Kyiv Ukraine Temple to do baptisms for the dead. Maria is now old enough to go. The temple is about 500 miles (805 km) away.

FAMILY FIRST
Maria and Diana love their parents. “Mom makes us feel better when we’re sick,” Maria says. “Dad takes us to school,” Diana says.

HYMNS
Diana’s favorite hymn is “Far, Far Away on Judea’s Plains,” which tells about when Jesus Christ was born. Members in Romania use the Church’s green hymnbook. “Imnuri” means “hymns” in Romanian.
He Broke the BANDS OF DEATH

From an interview with Elder Patrick Kearon of the Seventy; by Hilary Watkins Lemon

Children’s Songbook, 88.

They have eternal life through Christ, who has broken the bands of death (Mosiah 15:23).

One night when our children were younger, we were having family scripture time. We read about the Savior and talked about how He never made any mistakes.

Later that night my wife tucked our three-year-old daughter, Susie, into bed. Susie looked up at her mother and said, “Mummy, Jesus did make a mistake.”

“What do you mean?” her mother asked.

“He broke something,” Susie said.

Somewhat puzzled, her mother asked, “What did He break?”

“Jesus broke the bands of death,” Susie answered.

My wife realized that she and Susie had sung the Primary song “On a Golden Springtime” many times, and Susie had learned the words “On a golden springtime, Jesus Christ awoke and left the tomb where He had lain; the bands of death He broke.”* Susie’s mother explained that breaking the bands of death means that Jesus was resurrected so that we can all live again after we die.

That conversation has given my wife and me many opportunities to teach our daughters, Lizzie, Susie, and Emma, about what the Atonement really means for each of us. Susie was right: Jesus did break the bands of death. But it wasn’t a mistake. It was the greatest gift He could give us! (See Doctrine and Covenants 14:7.)

The Savior died and was resurrected so that we can live again with our Heavenly Father and our families according to our righteousness. If we are worthy, we can enjoy the blessings of immortality and eternal life someday. I am grateful that Jesus broke something—the bands of death! \(^{*}\)
When you dress modestly you are showing Heavenly Father that you respect and care for the body He has given you.

Whether you are a boy or a girl, take a minute to look in the mirror when you get dressed every day. You can find these standards and more in the For the Strength of Youth booklet.

- Covered shoulders
- Covered stomach
- No earring for boys
- No sloppy or torn clothes to fit in with a style
- Dresses or skirts a modest length

Choose the Right Media

I will only read and watch things that are pleasing to Heavenly Father (My Gospel Standards).

Every day you have choices.

What Should I Read?

Go!
- It is uplifting and helps me feel good inside.
- It helps me feel safe.
- It’s interesting; it’s teaching me good things.
- It helps me want to obey Heavenly Father’s commandments.
- It gives me good ideas and inspires me to do good things.
- I wouldn’t mind if my parents or siblings were reading, watching, or listening to it.
- I know it’s appropriate.
- I feel it’s pleasing to Heavenly Father.

Stop!
- It has swearing or crude words.
- It shows or talks about violence.
- It shows or talks about breaking Heavenly Father’s commandments.
- It makes me feel dull, tired, or like I’m wasting my time.
- It makes me think it would be OK to do wrong things.
- It makes me feel uncomfortable, nervous, scared, or mad.
- I’m not sure if it’s something I should read, watch, or listen to.
- I wouldn’t want my parents or siblings to know I’m reading, watching, or listening to it.

What Should I Watch?

What Should I Listen To?

So how do you decide?

* Pay attention to your feelings.
* Listen to the Holy Ghost.
* Put this checklist by your TV, computer, or MP3 player. If you have any checks on the Stop! list, it’s time to turn it off, put it down, and walk away.
Turning It Off

One day, I was playing a good, fun game on the Internet. Then I noticed that the website I was on was advertising games with blood and gore. I had an uncomfortable feeling, so I exited the website. Later I found the same game on a different website that did not advertise bad games. I felt way better after I turned off the website advertising bad games. I am glad I have the gift of the Holy Ghost so I can be protected and comforted. I am glad the Holy Ghost helps me make good choices.

Renton O., age 10, Utah

A Special Scripture

“For behold, the Spirit of Christ is given to every man, that he may know good from evil; wherefore, I show unto you the way to judge; for every thing which inviteth to do good, and to persuade to believe in Christ, is sent forth by the power and gift of Christ; wherefore ye may know with a perfect knowledge it is of God” (Moroni 7:16).

Standing Up for Values

While I was at my friend’s birthday party, we were voting on movies to watch. There were two out of the five that I knew I shouldn’t watch. I told my friend that I didn’t want to watch those two movies. She wasn’t very happy about that, but she did respect my values. We ended up watching a movie that I felt was appropriate. I am glad I have the gospel standard to follow: “I will only read and watch things that are pleasing to Heavenly Father.”

Kaitlyn M., age 11, Washington

Some Great Choices

* Listen to or watch scripture stories at scripturestories.lds.org.
* Watch videos and listen to music at lds.org/friend and lds.org/youth.
* Download music from lds.org/youth.
* And, of course, read the Friend!
How long is it until I can get baptized?” Lizzie asked during dinner. She was excited to turn eight soon. She had already asked her older brother Jake to baptize her before he left on his mission.

“In two months, right after your birthday,” Mom said.

“That seems so far away!” Lizzie said. She stared at her plate, trying not to seem disappointed.

Lizzie wanted to be baptized so badly. She liked the safe, happy feeling she felt at church, almost like a hug around her heart. Mom said that feeling was the Holy Ghost. Lizzie wanted to be baptized so she could be clean and have the Holy Ghost with her all the time.
“I know it’s hard to wait,” Dad said. “Maybe it would help if you think about the promises you’ll be making when you’re baptized and practice keeping them now.”

Lizzie thought about that as she cleared the table after dinner. “Dad’s right,” she thought. “Two months isn’t so long. And when the day comes, I want to be ready to promise to be good and choose the right.”

Lizzie felt that safe feeling inside again, and she smiled as she offered to help wash the dishes.

As the days passed, Lizzie tried to be more reverent and listen to the lessons at church. She especially loved hearing about Jesus. She put a picture of Him by her bed to remind her to think about Him more.

Lizzie also tried harder to do what was right. She was friendly to a new boy in her class. She was more patient with her sister Whitney and even let her be the princess when they played. Lizzie tried to be helpful and obedient to her parents. And when she did something unkind or wrong, Lizzie said she was sorry.

Finally, the week came when Lizzie would be baptized. Bishop Cohen interviewed her to see if she was ready. He asked if she believed in Heavenly Father and Jesus Christ.

Lizzie thought back to the lessons she had had in the past weeks. “Yes, I believe,” she said. She was glad she had been paying more attention in Primary and family home evening.

Then Bishop Cohen asked her some questions about keeping the commandments. Lizzie remembered how she had been trying hard to do what was right, and it felt good to be able to tell that to Bishop Cohen.

When her baptism day arrived, Lizzie put on her white dress. As she stepped down into the baptismal font, the water swirled around her legs, just warm enough. Lizzie felt her heart being hugged.

Jake smiled at Lizzie and took her hand. She was glad that he was there to baptize her, and she felt peaceful and calm knowing that she was ready. ☑️

When I got baptized I was really excited! When I got in the water my dad asked if I thought the water was cold. I said it was. After coming out of the water I felt cold on the outside but warm on the inside. I knew that the Holy Ghost was with me. He still is.

You mean you really believe that Jesus . . . ?
That He rose from the dead?
Yeah.

I do believe it. And because of what He did, we will all be resurrected too.
Wow! That would be amazing!

The Bible tells about it. And if you pray about it, you can know it's true too.
Really?

You mean you really believe that Jesus . . . ?
That He rose from the dead?
Yeah.

I do believe it. And because of what He did, we will all be resurrected too.
Wow! That would be amazing!

It really is amazing.

But why do you believe it?
Do you have proof?

The Bible tells about it. And if you pray about it, you can know it's true too.
Really?

Why don't you try it?
I'll think about it—after we finish finding these eggs.

I will choose the right. I know I can repent when I make a mistake (My Gospel Standards).

I need to tell you something, Mom,” Melissa said, looking at the floor. She took a deep breath and started to cry.

“My teacher is really mad because someone wrote on the bathroom wall,” Melissa said. “I know I shouldn’t have done it, but someone else started writing and I thought it was funny, so I did too. I feel so bad inside. What can I do?”

Mom gave Melissa a hug and pointed to a picture on the shelf. It was taken on the day Melissa was baptized. “Do remember what Uncle Brett talked about at your baptism?”

Sniffling, Melissa nodded. “That the Holy Ghost can help us know what is right and wrong,” she said. “He said if I did something wrong I would get a bad feeling. Is this what he was talking about?”

“Yes,” Mom said. “What else did he say?”

Melissa thought for a moment. “When we mess up we can repent by asking for forgiveness and fixing what we did wrong,” she said. “And promising to never do it again.”

As Melissa said those words, she knew what she needed to do.

Before the school bell rang the next morning, Melissa was at her teacher’s desk.

“Mrs. O’Dell, I wrote on the bathroom wall,” Melissa said, her heart pounding. “I’m really sorry, and I will clean it up.”

Mrs. O’Dell looked at Melissa for a moment. “You’ll have to stay after school to clean it,” she said. “And you need to tell your mother what you have done.”

“I know, I already told her. I promise to never do anything like this again,” Melissa said.

Melissa smiled as she walked to her desk. The bad feeling she had yesterday was gone.

One day in school we had a spelling test. Some people cheated, but I didn’t because I know cheating isn’t right. It made me sad to see other kids in my class cheating. I’m in grade 1. Because I’m not cheating in grade 1, it will help me not cheat in grades 2 and 3 and the rest of my life. When I choose to be honest, I feel happy. By choosing the right we become like Jesus. And being honest helps me become more like Him.

I will seek good friends and treat others kindly (My Gospel Standards).

Joel stopped by Brandon's house on the way home from school. Brandon had been diagnosed with cancer a year ago, and now he had home school because his treatments made him weak. Brandon also had to stop playing on their baseball team. School and baseball practice just weren't the same without him.

Brandon's mom answered the door. “Thank you for coming, Joel,” she said. “Some of Brandon's friends don't visit anymore. I think they feel uncomfortable.”

Joel looked down at his feet. He hadn't visited Brandon for a few weeks. Then he ducked into Brandon's room.

Brandon's face brightened when he saw Joel. “Thanks for coming,” he said.

“No problem,” Joel said. “How are you feeling?”

“Not too bad. The chemotherapy makes me tired, but the worst thing is having to wear this hat all the time.” Brandon pulled off his baseball cap to reveal his bald head.

“Did the chemotherapy do that?” Joel asked.

Brandon nodded.

“That's rough.”

Brandon rubbed his head. “Actually, it's pretty smooth.”

Joel grinned. Brandon had a great sense of humor. He'd even kept it through his sickness and all the hard treatments.

Joel stayed until he could tell Brandon was getting tired. As he walked home, Joel thought about how he could help his friend feel better. He took off his baseball cap and looked at it. He remembered how excited he and Brandon had been when they'd gotten their team hats. Now Brandon wore his all the time to cover his head.

Joel had an idea. He smiled as he hurried home to share it with his mom.

“Are you sure?” Mom asked when Joel told her his plan.

Joel nodded. “That way Brandon won't feel so alone,” he said. “I need to talk with the rest of the team.”

The next day Joel and his teammates went to Brandon’s house.

When they walked into Brandon’s room, Joel could tell it had been a bad day for his friend. Brandon’s freckles stood out on his pale face.

“Guess what?” Joel asked.

Brandon gave a tired smile. “I’m not really in the mood for guessing games today.”

“We’re getting our heads shaved.”

Brandon stared at the boys. “Why?”

“We thought it’d be cool,” Joel said. “And teammates stick together.”

On Saturday the team gathered at Brandon’s house. Brandon’s dad set a stool in the front yard. Joel was first in line. He grinned nervously as Brandon’s dad shaved off hunks of hair.

“All done,” Brandon’s dad said. “Next!”

All the boys on the baseball team had their heads shaved.

“It feels a little funny,” Todd said, rubbing his head.

Everyone laughed.

“You guys are the best,” Brandon said. He was smiling too, even though he had tears in his eyes.

Joel punched Brandon lightly on the shoulder. “Well, you’re our best pitcher,” he said. “We hope you’re back soon, helping us win!”

At school my friends and I were playing on the playground. A boy asked if he could play with us. Everyone said no because there was no room for him. I got out so he could take my spot. The other kids started to leave because they didn’t want to play with the boy, but I stayed to play with him. I felt really happy.

He Loves Me
Sometimes I feel angry,
Sometimes I feel mean,
But He loves me.
Even if we choose to be bad,
He will love us all.
His love will never ever end,
For He loves everyone.

Heavenly Father’s Plan
Heavenly Father had a plan
To have a test for all of man.
He needed someone to die for mortals,
So we could enter the heavenly portal.
Jesus stepped up, who wanted us to be free,
But Lucifer didn’t want that, for he was as slick as can be.
God chose Jesus, for His choice was right,
But Lucifer would not see the light.
Lucifer took one-third of the people above,
For he would not see God’s love.
And now there is a good plan for the whole earth.
Now the people can have a rebirth.

For Tanner, Easter would not be the same this year. His grandpa had died, and Tanner was sad he would never share this special time with him again.

But during Primary, Tanner was reminded that the reason we celebrate Easter is because Jesus lives! When He was resurrected, His spirit was forever reunited with His body, never to experience death again. Tanner learned that because Jesus was resurrected, everyone would be resurrected someday, including his grandpa!

An Easter song filled Tanner with happiness as he sang: “Jesus has risen, Jesus, our friend. Joy fills our hearts; He lives again.”* Tanner wanted to share this good news with everyone. He decided that before Easter, he would place on his neighbors’ doorsteps small bundles of spring flowers with scriptures about Jesus’s Resurrection. He imagined the smiles on their faces when they found his gift on Easter morning.

It seems like I hear swear words almost everywhere I go. I know these words are not good, but what can I do to keep from hearing them?

You can’t control what other people say, but you can let them know when you don’t like their choice of words. Standing up for what you know is right might be hard, but other people are probably bothered by the swear words too. By letting people know you don’t want to hear bad language, you are not only speaking up for yourself—you might also be speaking up for other people around you.

When a commercial came on the radio that started saying the Lord’s name in vain, my mom turned the station as quickly as she could. It bothered us a lot that they would use the Lord’s name in that way. We wrote a letter to the advertiser telling them we were offended about how they used the Lord’s name. They wrote back and apologized. Within a few days, the commercial was changed.

Gavin Z., age 7, California

Sometimes other kids on the bus use bad language. I cover my ears and replace the bad words with a Primary song. I know Jesus is happy when I don’t listen to bad things.

Raina K., age 9, Texas

There is a boy at school who found out I don’t swear. The day he found out, he made a game out of trying to get me to say bad words. But I didn’t swear the whole day at all. Today, it’s still kind of a game—and I’m winning! He’ll say something to try to get me to swear, but I’ll say something funny back and everybody will laugh. He’s not offended, and I’m not swearing. It works for everybody.

Eden S., age 11, New South Wales, Australia

When my friend was playing at my house, he started to say some words that weren’t very nice. I told him that we don’t say bad words in our home. He stopped saying them.

Test Your Health IQ

Heavenly Father has blessed you with a body, and He wants you to treat it well. Take this quiz to see how well you are taking care of your body!

1. You and a friend are deciding what to do one afternoon. Which do you choose?
   a. Watch TV.
   b. Go do something active outside.

2. You’re reading an exciting book before bed, but it’s getting late. What do you do?
   a. Put the book away and go to sleep.
   b. Keep reading. Just a few more chapters!

3. Someone at school offers you pills and says they taste like candy. What do you do?
   a. Say no.
   b. Take the pills.

   a. Try the vegetables. You might like them!
   b. Start with dessert. You can eat vegetables when you’re older.

5. Bad scenes from a movie are going through your head. What do you do?
   a. Keep thinking about the movie.
   b. Sing a Primary song, read a book, or play a game.

Did you pick these answers?

1. b. Go do something active outside. One way to take care of your body is by exercising. Exercising gives you energy, and it can be fun! Try jumping, skipping, dancing, or kicking a ball.

2. a. Put the book away and go to sleep. It might be hard to put the book down, but you need your sleep. Did you know you grow in your sleep? Your body needs rest to recharge for the next day.

3. a. Say no. Don’t take pills or other drugs from someone who is not your parent or doctor. They can be dangerous and harmful to your body. If a person offers them to you, leave quickly and tell an adult immediately.

4. a. Try the vegetables. You might like them! Mom is right. Vegetables are good for your growing body. Give them a try! If you don’t like them, talk to your parent about finding other healthy foods you can eat.

5. b. Sing a Primary song, read a book, or play a game. Having bad thoughts doesn’t mean you’re a bad person. But sometimes it’s hard to get those thoughts out of your head. Focusing on something good will help push them out.

If you picked other answers, make a goal to take good care of your body. When you have a choice to make, choose to do what is best for a healthy body and a clean mind. Remember, your body is a blessing from God!
I will live now to be worthy to go to the temple and do my part to have an eternal family (My Gospel Standards).

Are you girls excited to see the temple?” Mom asked as she, Natalie, and Stephanie drove to the Detroit Michigan Temple site.

“Yes!” the sisters said.

“Is it true they’re putting the marble on the walls right now?” Natalie asked.

“I think so,” Mom said.

“I can’t wait until it’s done,” Stephanie said. “It’s going to be so pretty.”

The girls were going to a special activity day. They were visiting the new temple while it was still under construction.

When they got to the temple site they met their group of girls and their leader, Sister Jones.

Walking around the construction site, Sister Jones told stories of the Kirtland and Nauvoo Temples and the early Latter-day Saints.

“They built temples and then were run out of their towns. They had to leave behind the beautiful buildings they had spent so long making,” Sister Jones said. “We are blessed to have the temples that we do today, and to now have a temple so close to us.”
Every time I visit the temple grounds with my mum and dad I feel the Spirit so much that I can’t explain it with words or writing. I have visited two temples—the Preston England Temple and the London England Temple. Even though I don’t remember every time I went, my parents tell me stories from when I was a baby. I love the temple.

Thomas H., age 9, Ireland

Natalie looked at the temple and imagined what it would be like to have to leave it after working so hard to build it. It made her sad.

“Do any of you know what blessings the temple gives us?” Sister Jones asked.

Kelsy raised her hand. “My family was sealed in the temple.”

“That’s right! People are married and sealed together in the temple so their families can be together forever. What other blessings are there?”

“Baptisms for the dead,” Natalie said. “That’s when people are baptized for people who aren’t alive anymore so they can choose to be members of the Church if they want.”

“Very good,” Sister Jones said. “Those are just some of the blessings we can receive in the temple.”

Natalie was excited to do baptisms for the dead when she turned 12. On her own baptism day she had felt clean and peaceful, and she wanted to share that feeling with others. Natalie felt important knowing she could do something to help people who had passed away.

“I have a gift for each of you,” Sister Jones said. She opened a bag and pulled out a piece of white stone.

“This is a piece of the same marble they are using to make the temple. I got special permission to give each of you one piece.” Sister Jones handed out the pieces of marble. “I want you to keep your marble in a special place to remind you of the temple and the blessings that the temple gives us. Can you do that?”

“Yes!” the girls said.

“I also want to challenge you to make goals to be worthy to enter the temple to do baptisms when you are 12, and to be married in the temple when you are older. The temple is a special place, and I want each of you to be a part of it,” Sister Jones said.

Natalie held her piece of marble tightly. It was white and beautiful and reminded her of being clean. She knew she wanted to be worthy to go inside the temple someday.

“I promise to remember the temple. I will go inside someday,” she said to herself. As she held the marble close to her heart, it felt like she was holding a piece of the temple there as well.
