

Seeking Service

There are many ways we can serve others every day. We do not have to wait for somebody to ask us for help. We can often find ways to help just by looking around us. Circle the opportunities for service you find in this picture.

