

A KIND Primary Class

Jayden P., age 10, Idaho, USA

Once I went to a family reunion in another state. It was a lot of fun. When Sunday came, I was nervous to go to a different ward. The only people I knew at church were my family. I wanted to stay home, but I knew going to church was important.

When we got to Primary, my nervous feeling went away a little. I started to feel comfortable with the other kids. They shared their scriptures with me, they talked to me, and they helped me answer questions. We became friends.

I was glad I went to church and thankful that everyone was so nice to me. I hope I get to go to that ward and see my friends sometime again. ●

Kindness Challenge

Aria is new at church. Fill in the speech bubbles with what you could say. How could you help a visitor feel welcome?
