Across the Country with the Friend

This summer, our family went on a two-month cross-country road trip from North Carolina to California! We stopped at many places on the way. We read the Friend all along the way and liked taking pictures with it.

Before the trip, Spencer asked the missionaries for 10 copies of the Book of Mormon and some pass-along cards to hand out. We gave them to people like hotel employees and tollbooth attendants. Once Kylie got to take a Book of Mormon to the clerk at a gas station. He said he already had a Bible, so Kylie explained why the Book of Mormon is special. He said he would try to read it! Kylie says, “I loved traveling with my family, visiting relatives, seeing God’s beautiful creations, and being a missionary too!”

Kylie, Madalyn, Spencer, Alexis, Thomas, Kaitlyn, and Makenna H., ages 11, 10, 8, 6, 4, 2, and 4 months, North Carolina, USA

Dear Friends,

Have you read about Henry, the brave pioneer boy who had to cross the ocean by himself? On page 12, you can find out if Henry overcame his challenges—and finally made it to Utah!

What’s your biggest challenge? Maybe it’s being sick, losing a pet, or having problems with friends. No matter what your challenges are, Heavenly Father cares and will help you with them.

We believe in you!

The Friend

P.S. Write to tell us how Heavenly Father helped you with a challenge.

Was there a letter or a story in this month’s issue that helped you? Tell us about it. Turn to page 48 to find out how.
STORIES AND FEATURES
  2  From the First Presidency: The Blessings of Obeying / President Thomas S. Monson
  4  The Parade Prize
  6  Family Fun Time
  7  Bright Idea
  8  Homeschool Graduation
  11  My Lesson on Faith
  12  Once You Get to Utah, Part 3: Earning a Ride
  14  Friends around the World: Pedro from Brazil
  16  Bulletin Board
  20  The Dog Project
  22  Special Witness: President Boyd K. Packer
  24  My Body Is a Temple
  26  Safety and the Spirit
  28  When I Grow Up … I Want to Be a Dentist
  30  Following Jesus: Be Brave
  31  Friend to Friend: Prepared to Serve / Elder Eduardo Gavarret
  36  Luke the Leader
  38  Show and Tell
  41  The New Adventures of Matt & Mandy
  42  Bringing Primary Home: We Become Members of the Church through Baptism and Confirmation
  48  P.S.

Cover by Craig Stapley

FOR LITTLE FRIENDS
  32  Sarah Walked and Walked
  35  Coloring Page

FOR OLDER KIDS
  44  Celebrating Church History, British Style
  46  Just One Click

MUSIC
  19  Love Enough

THINGS TO MAKE AND DO
  10  Funstuff: Sweet Success
  18  Friend Figure: Ana from Brazil
  23  Funstuff: Hidden Picture
  29  Funstuff: Tithing Time
  40  Temple Cards
  49  Old Testament Scripture Figures: Ruth and Naomi

P.S.

© 2014 by Intellectual Reserve, Inc. All rights reserved. The Friend (ISSN 0009-4102) is published monthly by The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, 50 E. North Temple St., Salt Lake City, Utah 84150-0024, United States of America. Periodicals Postage Paid at Salt Lake City, Utah.

To subscribe: Online: Go to store.lds.org.

By phone: Call 1-800-537-5971 to order using Visa, MasterCard, Discover Card, or American Express.

Unsolicited material is welcome, but no responsibility is assumed. For return, include self-addressed, stamped envelope. Children’s submissions will not be returned. Email: friend@ldschurch.org.

The Friend can be found on the internet at lds.org/friend.

Test and visual material in the Friend may be copied for incidental, noncommercial church or home use. Visual material may not be copied if restrictions are indicated in the credit line with the artwork. Copyright questions should be addressed to Intellectual Property Office, 50 E. North Temple St., Salt Lake City, UT 84150, United States of America; email: cor-intellectualproperty@ldschurch.org.

POSTMASTER: Send all UAA to CFS (see DMM 707.4.12.5). NONPOSTAL AND MILITARY FACILITIES: Send address changes to Distribution Services, P.O. Box 26368, Salt Lake City, UT 84126-0368, USA.

Canada Post Information: Publication Agreement #40017431.
There is no need for you or for me to sail uncharted seas or to travel unmarked roads in search of truth. A loving Heavenly Father has provided an unfailing guide—even obedience.

We learn obedience throughout our lives. Beginning when we are very young, those responsible for our care give us guidelines and rules to ensure our safety.

No greater example of obedience exists than that of our Savior. He was always obedient.

When faced with the agony of Gethsemane, He said, “Father, if thou be willing, remove this cup from me: nevertheless not my will, but thine, be done” (Luke 22:42).

As the Savior instructed His early Apostles, so He instructs you and me, “Follow thou me” (John 21:22).

Are we willing to obey?

The knowledge which we seek, the answers for which we yearn, and the strength which we desire today to meet our challenges can be ours when we willingly obey the Lord’s commandments.

Adapted from “Obedience Brings Blessings,” Ensign, May 2013, 89–92.
Pioneer Children Obeyed

THINK ABOUT IT
Why was it so important for pioneer children to be obedient? How did it help them stay safe? How did it help them know what to do?

What commandments has Heavenly Father given you to obey? How do they help you stay safe? How do they help you know what to do?

What difference does it make if we obey willingly or unwillingly?

PIONEER PUZZLES
Fill in the missing words in the poem from the word list: campfire, cheerful, food, heaven, helping, obey, pioneers, pray, quick, wagons, walking, water.

Pioneer children were _______ to _______,
Walking along by the ________ all day,
Then in the firelight, kneeling to ______,
Little pioneer children.

Carrying _______ and gathering wood,
Building a ____________ and cooking the _______,
Learning and __________ the best that they could,
Little pioneer children.

Children today can be _________ too,
Willing and ________ in all that we do,
________ our pathway with _________ in view,
Little pioneer children.

(Children's Songbook, 215)

Now find the same words in the word search!

A M Z M U K V S T S X O
W C F Y P A L C F R J L
A A S L C R B A O E K L
T M N G H H A S O E H B
E P O J E A H Y D N E Y
R F G P E C E O S O A E
E I A X R L L K J I V B
O R W H F Q P A C P E O
D E Z N U H I F C I N O
R J G H L C N W K U U H
W A L K I N G L D F N Q
H D Z Q N X U U S Z Q W
Matthew got in the van with his family and put on his seatbelt. Today they were going to the parade!

Matthew loved parades. He was excited to see the bands marching along with their big drums and their shiny hats. Every year he tried to guess which float would win as they all rolled by, and he laughed at the clowns on their tiny bikes. He couldn’t wait to see the horses and hear the fire trucks blow their horns.

Dad parked the car, and they walked to where Grandpa and Grandma were waiting.

“Hey, buddy,” Grandpa said as he ruffled Matthew’s hair. “Ready to get some candy?”

Matthew nodded. He checked his pocket to make sure he had his plastic bag. He loved waiting on the curb and getting the candy and other things people handed out. Last year he got a whole bag full of candy and toys. He knew that Grandpa liked the candy as much as he did. He always looked through his bag afterwards to find something Grandpa liked.

“Jesus said love ev’ryone; treat them kindly, too” (Children’s Songbook, 61).
Matthew’s favorite part of the parade wasn’t what he saw but what he did.

“I hope I get lots of candy!” Matthew’s sister Abby yelled as she jumped up and down. “Look! It’s starting!”

Matthew quickly picked a spot on the curb. He felt his heart thud as a band began to play. Suddenly the air was filled with bubbles as a float covered with tropical fish passed by. The people walking behind it were handing out lollipops. Matthew and Abby both got one.

The next group handed out tickets to the bowling alley. Then the clowns came. Some were on stilts, one rode a unicycle, and some rode the tiny bikes Matthew liked.

The next group was dancing and handing out bright green water bottles. A water bottle like that would be perfect for soccer! Matthew and Abby both grabbed one. Then Matthew saw a little boy nearby crying because he hadn’t gotten one. Matthew looked at his bag filled with candy and toys. He looked again at the boy and then took out his water bottle and walked over to him.

“Here you go,” Matthew said, holding it out to the boy. The boy grabbed it, smiled, and wiped his eyes. The boy’s mom smiled and said thank you.

As Matthew went back to sit on the curb, he saw Grandpa wink at him. He felt good that he had shared the water bottle with the little boy, even though he could have used it for soccer. Matthew thought that sharing with the boy was what Jesus would have wanted him to do.

After the parade Grandpa asked Matthew what he liked most. Matthew thought about all the fun things in the parade. Then he thought about the boy and the water bottle. He knew he had done something even better than watching a parade and getting candy.

The author lives in Oregon, USA.
Read “The Parade Prize” (pages 4–5). Matthew learned that sharing could make a fun activity even better.

What can you share? You can share your time by helping someone, or you can share a good day by making someone else smile. You can also make and share the fun necklace and treats below with your family! Be sure to get an adult’s help with this craft and recipe.

Friendship Necklace

Each person needs:
- a bowl with one color of medium-sized plastic beads (at least 30)
- 2 pieces of thick cotton string, each about 4 1/2 feet (137 cm) long
- scissors
- tape

1. Put your two strings together and tie a knot at one end. Leave a 4-inch (10-cm) tail.
2. Make another knot 5 inches (13 cm) from the tail. Tape the knot to a book or piece of cardboard so it will stay in place while you work.
3. Ask for a bead from someone else. Thread your bead down one string. Tie the strings together twice after each bead (or tie a square knot).
4. Keep sharing beads, stringing them, and tying knots until you have about 30 beads. The more beads you share with others, the more colorful and fun your necklace will be.
5. Knot the strings about 5 inches (13 cm) from your last bead. Trim the string to make a 4-inch (10-cm) tail. Tie the two tails together to finish the necklace.
6. Now that your necklace is done, trade it with the person next to you. See the beautiful necklace they have to share!

Fruit and Yogurt Pops

1 large ripe banana
2 cups fresh or frozen berries
3/4 cup low-fat plain yogurt
2 tablespoons sugar

1. Combine all the ingredients in a blender or food processor, and blend until very smooth.
2. Spoon the fruit mix into ice cube trays.
3. Freeze for 1 ½ hours. Then put a toothpick in the middle of each cube.
4. Freeze for at least 4 more hours. Enjoy!
“Courage . . . includes doing the right thing even though we may be afraid.”

President Thomas S. Monson

“You’re my mother kind and true; dearest mother, I love you”
(Children’s Songbook, 206).

Twelve-year-old Tim, ten-year-old Jake, and eight-year-old Jill closed their books for the day.

“Awesome history lesson, Mom,” Jake said.

“Totally!” Jill said. Mom made history so fun. It was Jill’s favorite subject.

“Thanks, kids,” Mom said as she gathered up her teaching supplies. “You’re all doing great. Your teachers next year are going to be so impressed with you, I just know it.”

Jill’s stomach did a little somersault. With the new baby coming, Mom had decided she would be too busy to teach homeschool next year.

“I’ll miss having you as my teacher,” Jill said.

Mom put a hand on Jill’s shoulder. “I’ll miss being your teacher too, sweetheart. But I’m still your mom.” She grinned. “And a mom is always a teacher!”

As Jill got ready for bed that night, she thought about what Mom had said. A mom is always a teacher.

Jill had never really thought much about it before. Mom had worked so hard. Right then and there Jill decided to somehow give Mom a gigantic “Thank you!” for being her teacher. It would have to be something special. But how should she do it? She prayed for help.

Several days later Jill still hadn’t thought of the perfect way to show thanks for Mom. She thanked her out loud all the time. But she wanted to do something more.

“You kids have done so well,” Mom said. “You’re definitely ready to graduate from homeschool.”

Jill’s hand froze in place, her pencil hovering above her paper. A fabulous idea popped into her head. Graduate! They could throw Mom a surprise graduation party! Mom would love it. It was the perfect way to say thank you.

Jill told Tim and Jake her plan. They soon began working to throw a great surprise party.

Jill had a hard time focusing on math the next day. She kept picturing Mom’s face when they surprised her.

Finally it was time to put their books away. When Mom turned around to wipe the chalkboard, Jill gave a thumbs-up to Tim and Jake to show that it was time.

As quietly as possible they pulled out the secret party supplies they had hidden under their desks.

“Surprise!” they all yelled as Mom turned around.

Jill ran over and gave Mom a rolled-up paper that she’d tied carefully with a ribbon. She’d worked hard on that homemade diploma.

“What’s all this?” Mom asked with a laugh.

Tim put a graduation hat made of black construction paper on her head.

“It’s a graduation party!” said Jake. “From all of us.”

Jill gave Mom a big hug. “We wanted to thank you for being such a great teacher.”

“Happy graduation!” Jill and her brothers all shouted.

Tim pulled out a party noisemaker and blew it loudly.

“Come into the kitchen!” he said. “It’s time to get this party started.”

Mom laughed again and adjusted the graduation hat on her head. Then she followed Tim and Jake into the kitchen for the treats they’d planned.

Jill felt good inside. They had made Mom happy.

Next school year was going to be great, Jill decided. And if she ever had homework questions, she knew just who to ask for help. With a huge smile, Jill ran into the kitchen to join the party.

The author lives in Colorado, USA.

“Love should be the very heart of family life.”
President Thomas S. Monson
How could Jill thank Mom for being such an awesome teacher?
Find out the first thing this boy plans to do with the money he earns from his lemonade stand.

To solve the puzzle, first unscramble the mixed-up letters in the boxes below. Then arrange the letters that are in lemons to find the answer. The first one has been done for you. (Answer on page 48.)

I wanted lemonade, not lemon-aid!

AWSH
wash

NCA

DRIT

ATRC

LIRG

...
A few years ago, I taught a family home evening lesson on faith. My family had been spending lots of time talking about faith because my older brother had questions about why we need faith. I planted a seed I saved from a cantaloupe in a little cup. I told my family that faith was like a seed. If you took good care of it, the seed would grow.

We had never had much success growing gardens. But I hoped I could make this plant grow and that I could be a good example of faith. I put the cup in the window and took care of it. I waited and prayed for my seed to grow.

I had almost given up, but after a week I finally saw some green sprouting up. It grew in the window for another week. Then my parents helped me find a place to plant it in a backyard flowerbed.

I took good care of my plant. I watered it and kept the weeds away. It kept growing bigger and bigger. I was so excited!

After weeks went by, I noticed flowers, and then small fruit began to sprout. We watched seven cantaloupes grow on the vine from my one little seed. To me it was a miracle and an answer to my prayers. The fruit was sweet, just like it says in Alma 32:42: “And because of your diligence and your faith and your patience with the word in nourishing it, that it may take root in you, behold, by and by ye shall pluck the fruit thereof, which is most precious, which is sweet above all that is sweet.”

This experience made me very happy and taught me and my family that faith is a true principle of the gospel of Jesus Christ.

YOUR TURN

We would like to plant a seed with you: have you thought about sharing your experiences with the Friend? We welcome true stories about how you live the gospel of Jesus Christ. For example, you could write about a time when you had a prayer answered or when you invited a friend to church.

Your parents can help you send it in: online at friend.lds.org, by email to friend@ldschurch.org, or by mail to the address on page 48. Please include your photo and your parent’s permission.
Henry’s family sent him from England to start a new life in Utah. But his journey took an unexpected detour when he didn’t have enough money for a train ticket from Chicago to Salt Lake City. Then he heard about a man named Amos who was heading for the Utah Territory.

Henry walked up to the man named Amos. He had a snarly red beard, and he wasn’t smiling.

“Excuse me?” Henry said in a small voice. He felt nervous but remembered that the freight master had said Amos was a good man.

“What do you want?” Amos growled.

“I . . . I heard you could take me to Utah,” Henry stammered.

“I don’t take passengers,” Amos said. “I run a business.”

“I’ll work my way,” Henry said.

Amos laughed. “What work could a boy like you do?”

“I can do lots of things!” Henry said.

Amos scratched his beard. “Do you know anything about horses?” he asked.

“Yes, sir,” Henry answered. “My papa worked on a big estate in England, and I helped him with the horses all the time.”

“Is that so?” Amos smiled. He jerked his thumb at two horses tied to the back of the wagon. “Let’s see you hitch up Old Buck and Rufus.”

Henry walked over to the horses, patted their noses, and talked softly to them. Without any difficulty, he led them to the wagon and fastened the harnesses.

“Well, I’ll be hornswagged! Old Buck’s usually cranky with strangers. You might
When Henry William Groom was 15, he moved on his own to Idaho, USA. After a few years, the rest of his family joined him there. Later he married Ida Violet Strong, and they had seven children. He loved to sing and was a hard worker and a successful farmer. He died in 1960.

Illustration by Paul Mann; photograph courtesy of the Fielding and Strong families.
Pedro lives in the largest country in South America—Brazil. He lives in Curitiba, the capital of the Brazilian state of Paraná. Pedro likes to spend time with his mom and dad and his older brother and younger sister. They love to visit the temple and go to the beach together. Pedro looks forward to being a missionary someday!

*“Hello, friends!” in Portuguese.

Each morning I read the scriptures and pray with my family before I go to school. My favorite subjects are art and the history of the Brazilian Indians. Not many of my friends at school are members of the Church. I talk to them about what I believe and invite them to come to church with me.
My favorite scripture story is when Nephi returns to Jerusalem to get the plates of brass. I like to set and complete goals. I plan to earn my Faith in God Award before I turn 12.

I love to draw. I spend many hours every week on my artwork. I also like to visit the library and look at the art books.

My family likes to visit the temple in Curitiba and walk through the gardens together. I was only four when the temple was built, but I remember going on the tour at the open house. It is a special memory for me.

I love to play football (soccer). Another sport I like is hapkido, a kind of martial art from Korea.

When I grow up, I would like to be a missionary. I want to serve in Manaus because it’s where the Amazon forest is. Then I want to work as an art designer.

I like to set and complete goals. I plan to earn my Faith in God Award before I turn 12.

When I grow up, I would like to be a missionary. I want to serve in Manaus because it’s where the Amazon forest is. Then I want to work as an art designer.

Pedro’s suitcase is packed with some of his favorite things. Which of these things would you pack in your suitcase?
Have you met Pedro yet? On pages 14–15, you can read about his life in Brazil. Here are some fun facts about this South American country.

★ Its official language is Portuguese. People in Brazil came from many other places—like Japan, Africa, and Europe—but they are all Brazilians.

★ It has the largest river in the world, the Amazon River.

★ Almost one-third of it is made up of rainforests!

★ It has six temples, and two more are being built.

Pedro likes to help his mom make meals for the family. Here's a recipe for an omelet they often make together. Remember to ask an adult for help. Makes about 5 servings.

4 eggs
3 slices of mozzarella cheese, chopped
3 slices of ham, chopped
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon oregano
1 tablespoon butter

1. Break the eggs into a bowl and beat them with a fork. Mix in the cheese, ham, salt, and oregano.

2. Melt the butter in a large frying pan. Keep the pan on medium heat.

3. Slowly pour in the egg mixture.

4. Let it cook to get golden-brown on one side. Then carefully fold in the sides and flip it over with a spatula. Let it cook to get golden-brown on the other side.
Queimada

The name of this game means “burned” in Portuguese, and it’s like a Brazilian version of dodgeball. This game works best with at least eight people.

1. Divide a large, open space in half. Split into two teams.

2. At the back of each side, there is a “cemetery.” Each team chooses one player to stand in the other team’s cemetery.

3. Toss a coin to decide which team starts.

4. The person in the cemetery starts the game by throwing the ball to the opposite side. A teammate must catch the ball and then throw it and try to hit someone on the other team. When people are hit with the ball, they go to the cemetery. If a person catches the ball, the thrower goes to the cemetery. If the ball goes out of bounds, the ball goes to the other team.

5. The game is over when everyone on one team is in the cemetery.

Family History: I Am Doing It!

A family reunion is when family members get together to share memories, have fun, and get to know each other better. With your parents’ help, plan a reunion for your family. If family members live close by, you could invite them to have a picnic lunch or to come over for dinner. If they live far away, you could call them or use the computer to talk to them. You could even plan a project for your family to work on—like acting out favorite family stories, doing a service project, or working on family history together. Don’t forget to take lots of pictures and write in your journal about the special day!

What If...

What if you could give a gift to anyone in the world? What would you give, and why?
Ana from Brazil

Ana is dressed in her everyday clothes, but you can also dress her in church clothes or in her traditional baiana dress. Glue this page onto heavy paper before you color and cut out the pieces.

Print more copies at FriendsaroundtheWorld.lds.org.
1. I'm wise enough to seek the Light,
   Strong enough to stand for right,

Tenderly

2. I'm firm enough to choose the Lord,
   Resolute to keep my word,

3. I'm blessed enough to bear Christ's name,
   Knowing what He overcame.

Meek enough to be advised,
   Brave enough to be baptized,

Full of faith in all I've learned,
   Clean enough to be confirmed

When I sin or break my word,
   I'll repent, by sorrow stirred,

Born again a child of God,
   Cleansed by Christ's atoning blood.

And receive the Holy Ghost,
   Gift of God I need the most.

Then renew my covenant
   As I take the sacrament.

Christ has love enough for me,
   Love enough eternally.

2. I'm

3. I'm

Love enough eternally.
   Love enough eternally.
Melody scratched her puppy behind the ears. He wagged his tail. "Just wait, Buddy," Melody said. "Soon you're going to know how to do tricks!"

"Time to go," Mom said. Melody gave Buddy a quick hug goodbye and ran to their family's van. With her favorite outfit on, Melody was ready for her second 4-H meeting. She couldn't wait to learn all about growing a garden, painting ceramics, and sewing. But most of all, she was excited about the dog-training project.
For as long as she could remember, Melody had loved animals. She imagined for the hundredth time how great it would be to take Buddy on the dog course and teach him all sorts of tricks.

They arrived at the fire station where the meeting would be held. Melody listened closely to the announcements. “Sewing will be this Saturday at my house,” the group leader explained. “Ceramics will be next Monday after school, and the dog project is this Sunday at 2:00 at my house.”

Melody’s heart sank. Sunday! Sundays were special days for church and family. It wasn’t a day for shopping or going to the movies. But what about dog training?

All the way home she stared silently out the window. At home she went straight to the backyard and began brushing Buddy’s fur. She didn’t want to talk with anybody.

Later that night Melody sat on the couch with tears filling her eyes. Why did the dog project have to be on Sunday? It wasn’t fair!

Mom sat down next to Melody on the couch and held her hand. “What do you want to do about the dog project?” Mom asked. Her parents had talked it over and decided to let Melody make her own choice.

Melody didn’t answer at first. She’d thought about the problem all day long. She kept trying to tell herself it would be OK to do the dog project. After all, it was scheduled after church. But every time she thought this, she felt kind of squirmy inside.

“I don’t know,” Melody said. “I know I want to train Buddy. But I also want to do what’s right.”

“Keep praying,” Mom said. “You’ll know what to decide.”

Mom gave her a kiss on the forehead and left the room.

Melody went to the backyard to brush Buddy’s fur some more. She said a silent prayer for help.

She looked into Buddy’s eyes. He would be so good at learning tricks—she just knew it! But she also knew that she didn’t feel happy inside about attending the project on Sunday. She knew how peaceful the Holy Ghost felt, and that wasn’t how she felt when she thought of doing the project.

Melody realized that was her answer. If she didn’t feel good about it, she wouldn’t do the dog project.

A warm feeling grew in Melody’s heart as she made her decision. Then she had an idea. She could probably find a book about dog training at the library! Probably a couple of books. Maybe they could even learn together as a family.

“Guess what, Buddy? You’re going to learn tricks after all!” Melody tossed a stick for him to fetch. He just looked at her with a goofy grin. He didn’t run after the stick even a little bit.

She grinned. “Don’t worry, Buddy. We’ll learn together.”

The author lives in New Mexico, USA.
SPECIAL WITNESS

By President Boyd K. Packer
President of the Quorum of the Twelve Apostles

The members of the Quorum of the Twelve Apostles are special witnesses of Jesus Christ.

What can we do to BE WORTHY of the Spirit?

Listen to uplifting music.

Talk reverently.

Repent when you make a mistake.

Dress modestly.

If you do these things, you will be watched over and the Holy Ghost will guide you.

From "Counsel to Youth," Ensign, Nov. 2011, 16–19.
Hidden Picture

By Val Chadwick Bagley

This group of Primary kids worked hard to build their parade float for Pioneer Day. Can you find the hidden pioneer-themed objects?
WHAT’S GREAT ABOUT HAVING A BODY?
Our bodies are so important and holy that the Lord calls them temples (see 1 Corinthians 3:16–17). And having a body is fun too! Bodies can run, sing, climb, laugh, draw, swim, dance, and do other fun activities. Also, we can use our bodies to learn, help people, create families, and make the world a better place.

WHY DO WE HAVE BODIES?
Before we were born, we were spirits without physical bodies. There were a lot of things we couldn’t do until we had a body. God sent us to earth to get bodies. We need both a spirit and a body to become like Heavenly Father. (See D&C 88:15.)
My Body Is a Temple

ILLUSTRATIONS BY STEVE KROPP

As we care for our bodies the way God has commanded, we will be blessed! (See Mosiah 2:41; D&C 89:18–21.)

WHAT IF THERE ARE THINGS I DON’T LIKE ABOUT MY BODY?

Sometimes our bodies don’t look, move, or work the way we want them to. But no matter what our bodies are like, we can choose to be grateful for them and use them to do good things here on earth. Someday, each one of us will be resurrected and have a body that is perfect (see Alma 40:23). God loves us no matter what our bodies are like, and we can love ourselves too.

HOW SHOULD I TREAT MY BODY?

We should treat our bodies the way we would care for any priceless treasure—with love and respect. Through the prophets and the Word of Wisdom, Heavenly Father has told us what is bad for our bodies and what is good. There are lots of things we can do to care for our bodies:

• Eat healthy foods and exercise.
• Dress modestly and keep our bodies clean.
• Respect other people’s bodies.
• Don’t mark our bodies with tattoos or piercings.
• Don’t use drugs, alcohol, tobacco, coffee, or tea.
• Play games that are safe and fun and stay away from activities that are dangerous.

When we take care of our bodies, we are better able to feel the Holy Ghost.

WHY DOESN’T EVERYONE LOOK ALIKE?

Bodies come in many shapes, colors, and sizes, and this is part of Heavenly Father’s plan. Even though each body is different, all of us are created in the image of God (see Genesis 1:26). That means that our bodies are patterned after His perfect body. Every single body is beautiful because each one is a gift from our loving Heavenly Father.

As we care for our bodies the way God has commanded, we will be blessed! (See Mosiah 2:41; D&C 89:18–21.)

By Marissa Widdison

Church Magazines

July 2014

25
Mom, can I ride my bike over to Jason's house?
Zach called as he ran into his bedroom.

"Sure," Mom said. "Just be careful."

"OK!" Zach skidded to a stop next to his bed and grabbed his tennis shoes. When he glanced up, he saw the picture of Jesus he kept next to his baseball trophy. His grandparents had given him the picture at his baptism last month. Zach could hardly believe he was finally baptized. He thought back to that important day.

He remembered sitting in the chapel next to his dad. Both of them were dressed in white. His Primary teacher, Sister Jones, gave a talk about the Holy Ghost. She told Zach if he listened to the still, small voice he would be blessed.

Sister Jones held up a whistle. "Sometimes the Holy Ghost will warn you of danger, almost like a whistle in your mind." Then she held up a helmet. "Following the Holy Ghost is like wearing a helmet in a dangerous world. His still, small voice will prompt you so you will be protected spiritually and physically."

Zach had thought about the talk a lot since then. He was grateful to have the gift of the Holy Ghost. As he finished tying his shoes, he stood up and noticed his bike helmet in his closet.

"Wear your helmet," a small voice inside him seemed to say.

Zach stood still. Is that the Holy Ghost? he wondered. OK, he thought. I'll wear my helmet. He put it on and ran out of the room. "Bye, Mom!" he called as he ran outside.

The afternoon hurried by as Zach and Jason played pirates in Jason's tree house. Finally Zach noticed it was getting late.

"I'd better go," he told Jason. He picked up his bike and snapped his helmet into place again. "See you later."

Zach pedaled carefully along the side of the street. When he came to the corner, he looked both ways, then started across the road. Just as he reached the other side, a huge blue truck raced around the corner. Suddenly it hit the back tire of Zach's bike, knocking him to the ground.

Zach caught his breath, then carefully sat up. The road was empty, except for his twisted bike lying nearby.

Zach stood up. He was shaking, but he didn't seem to be hurt. Then he remembered—his helmet!

Zach picked up his bike and walked the rest of the way home. When he reached the front door, he ran inside.

"Mom, Mom!" he said, hugging her tightly, his voice shaking a little. "A truck hit my bike!"

"What?! Are you all right?" she asked.

Zach nodded. "I was wearing my helmet. I felt a still, small voice tell me to put it on before I left."

Mom sighed with relief.

"Sister Jones was right," Zach continued. "The Holy Ghost is real! I followed His prompting and He protected me—just like my helmet."

The author lives in Nevada, USA.
Following the Holy Ghost is like wearing a helmet in a dangerous world.
When I Grow Up . . .

I Want to Be a Dentist

My name is Kelly Lineback, and I’m a dentist.

From an interview by Linda Davies

What does a dentist do?
Dentists check your teeth and gums. I treat lots of cavities, or tooth decay. Putting a filling inside a cavity stops the decay from getting bigger and makes the tooth feel better.

How do you help people?
Some patients come to my office with very bad toothaches. I help that pain go away.
Sometimes people just want their teeth to look better, so I straighten their teeth or remove spots on their teeth and make their smiles sparkle. When you meet someone new, a smile is one of the first things you see. That’s one of the main reasons why I became a dentist. I love helping people feel good about their smiles.

How did you become a dentist?
To become a dentist, you go to college first and then to dental school.

How can your talents bless others?
Heavenly Father loves each of us no matter where we live. Being a dentist helps me serve Heavenly Father and many people in my own community as well as in faraway countries. Because many people cannot pay to see a dentist, my family and I have set up clinics to help them. I am grateful for the love and patience the Lord freely gives me. I am glad He has allowed me to help others through my dental skills.
Tithing Time
By Arie Van De Graaff

Help this Primary child deliver her tithing to the bishop by finding a path to the podium. Now see if you can find the bishop's two counselors. One has gray hair and is wearing a red tie. The other is bald with a green tie.
What Jesus Taught

Jesus taught that we sometimes have to be brave to follow Him. He said that people might say bad things about us or not want to be around us when we follow Him. But He said we should even be happy when that happens because we will be blessed for following Him! You can read what Jesus said about this in Luke 6: 22–23.

This Month’s Challenges

☐ Stand up for someone who is being bullied or left out.

☐ Turn off video games that have violence or immodesty.

☐ If someone asks you to cheat or tell a lie, don’t do it.

☐ I challenge myself to . . .

Following Jesus Today

A lot of people in my class were taking the Lord’s name in vain. During a class meeting, I asked everyone to stop doing that. It took a lot of courage for me to do that. Some people still take the Lord’s name in vain, but I know the Lord is happy with me.

Maren W., age 8, Arizona, USA

One day I was playing with my friend, and he wanted to watch a movie that I didn’t think we should watch. I called my parents to ask, but no one was home. We did not watch the movie. I feel good when I choose the right.

Tyler K., age 7, Utah, USA
“Learn in thy youth to keep the commandments of God” (Alma 37:35).

I grew up in the city of Minas, Uruguay. When I was six years old, my mother and older sisters were baptized into the Church. My father never joined the Church, but he was always happy that we went to church. He even kept the Word of Wisdom and paid tithing.

Our branch was very small, and we did not have a church building. We met in a rented house. The house had a small swimming pool outside that we used for baptisms.

As my eighth birthday got closer, I was excited about being baptized. But on the day of the baptism, it was raining and very cold. My mom said that maybe I shouldn’t be baptized that day because of the cold weather. But it was my birthday, and I wanted to be baptized on that day.

I remember putting on my white clothes and getting into the pool to be baptized. I knew that the water would be cold, but I did not feel cold. I knew that I was doing the right thing, and I had a warm feeling.

A short time later a chapel was built for our branch. At that time Church members could help build the meetinghouses. My job was to pick up nails and screws that had fallen on the ground so they could be used again. It was a simple job, but it was very important to me. It taught me how to serve, and it helped prepare me for future Church service. Remember that even though you are young, the things you do now matter.
Sarah hopped and skipped. She was ready to hike around Silver Lake with her family. Her brother, Josh, ran ahead.

Soon the sun began to feel hot on Sarah’s arms. Her legs began to feel tired.

“Don’t worry,” Mom said. “We’re almost back to our car.”
“Do you remember the story of the pioneers?” Mom asked. Sarah nodded. She liked the pioneers.

“They had to walk a very long way,” Mom said. “Sometimes it was really hot, and sometimes it was really cold. But they kept walking. When they got to their new home, they built houses and temples.”
Sarah was glad the pioneers kept walking. She would keep walking too. She held her hand out to Josh. “Come on,” she said. “We have some more walking to do.”

The author lives in Utah, USA.
How is your life different from an early pioneer’s life?

How is it the same?

“Choose the right way and be happy”
(Children’s Songbook, 160).

Luke loved playing foursquare with his new friends from kindergarten.

Britton bounced the red ball to him.

“Hey guys, listen to this,” Britton said. Then he said a word Luke had never heard. It sounded ugly. Luke didn’t feel good when he heard it.

“Say it, Luke,” Britton said. “It will be funny!”

Luke stood there holding the ball. He didn’t know what to do.

“Come on,” said Sean. “My brother and his friends say that word. They all think it’s funny. Say it!”

Then he had an idea. He could use words to make people feel good inside instead of bad. His grinned. He thought of the silliest word he could.

“Zugga-bugga-zoo!” Luke said. It worked! His friends laughed so hard they sat right down on the ground.

“That other word doesn’t sound funny,” Luke said. “Let’s make up silly words instead!”

“Flazzle-razzle!” Tiffany said. Luke laughed. They all made up funny words until recess ended.

After school Luke walked home with Mom and told her about recess.

“How did you know it was a bad word?” Mom asked.

“I didn’t feel happy when I heard it.”

“I’m so proud of you!” Mom said.

“You listened to the Holy Ghost tell you not to say that word. Then you used your talent of making people laugh to help you choose the right!”

Luke hadn’t thought about that. He smiled.

“Hey, I have a good word for you,” Mom said. “It starts with L.”

“Luke!”

“That’s good, but I’m thinking of someone who shows other people the way. Like the game, Follow the . . .”

“Leader!”

“Right! You were a leader with your good example. You were a leader with laughter.”

Luke hugged Mom. Then they raced back home. They laughed the whole way. ✨

The author lives in California, USA.
In our Primary presentation one year I played the piano for “I Lived in Heaven.” The next year I led the sign language for “I Love to See the Temple.” The next year my goal was to learn “If I Listen with My Heart.” I know the Lord gave me talents and I should develop them and use them to bless others—then my talents will grow. I know that I am a daughter of God and that Jesus Christ gave His life for me.

Luna Marisol I., age 8, Argentina

Every month, we make the three-hour drive to the temple with our parents. Before we go, we like to change the words to our favorite Primary song and sing, “I love to see the temple. We’re going on Saturday.” We know Jesus is happy when we go to the temple. We are trying to follow his example.

Caleb, Maelea, and Parker V., ages 6, 4, and 2, Wisconsin, USA

One night I had a bad dream. I didn’t know what to do. I got in bed with my mom, but I was still nervous. Then I decided to pray and sing my favorite Primary song, “A Child’s Prayer.” After that, I felt the Holy Ghost. I was able to go back to bed and fall asleep. I know that Heavenly Father sent the Holy Ghost to comfort me.

Olivia D., age 8, Georgia, USA

The Primary children in the Menlo Park Ward, Arizona, USA, made a temple out of blocks to learn about choosing the right. The children talked about choices and consequences. For each good choice, they added a block to their temple. Their good choices helped them complete their temple by the end of the year. They also visited the Mesa Arizona Temple.

Halle C., age 10, Washington, USA

Ciomara S., age 8, Iowa, USA, and Hunter C., age 8, California, USA, are cousins who were baptized on the same day. Their grandmother was baptized too! It was a very special day for two families who had waited a very long time to see their grandma get baptized.

Hayden H., age 8, Idaho, USA
I have two pioneers in my family. My grandma was the first from her family to join the Church in France 40 years ago. It was not easy because her family and friends didn’t want her to. My great-grandma from the other side of my family was also the first of her family to join.

I am proud these two faithful women had the courage to follow the Spirit. I want to be as brave as them and follow the Spirit every day.

Jack T., age 7, Washington, USA

Sam D., age 6, New Mexico, USA, is the oldest in his family, and he is a great example to his younger brother and sister. He loves reading the Friend with his family. He was inspired by Sister Chef on page 36 of the March 2013 issue and decided to make a cooking notebook and apron so he can learn to cook and prepare for his future mission. He is excited to be a missionary someday.
Temple Cards

Cut out this page, glue it to heavy paper, and cut out the cards.
Go to friend.lds.org to print more copies of the cards and to find cards for other temples.

Kyiv Ukraine
Dedicated on August 29, 2010, by President Thomas S. Monson

San Salvador El Salvador
Dedicated on August 21, 2011, by President Henry B. Eyring

Quetzaltenango Guatemala
Dedicated on December 11, 2011, by President Dieter F. Uchtdorf

Kansas City Missouri
Dedicated on May 6, 2012, by President Thomas S. Monson

Manaus Brazil
Dedicated on June 10, 2012, by President Dieter F. Uchtdorf

Brigham City Utah
Dedicated on September 13, 2012, by President Boyd K. Packer

Calgary Alberta
Dedicated on October 28, 2012, by President Thomas S. Monson

Tegucigalpa Honduras
Dedicated on March 17, 2013, by President Dieter F. Uchtdorf

Gilbert Arizona
Dedicated on March 2, 2014, by President Thomas S. Monson
Thanks for helping me study for that science test. I passed, thanks to you.

Umm... how come you've been so nice to me after some of us were so mean when you first got here?

No problem!

Well, after you failed that first science test you looked like you needed some help.

And we had a lesson in our family home evening about being kind to others.

What's family home evening?

My family doesn't do anything like that.

Family home evening is where we get together and have lessons, and games, and treats.

Hey! Does your family want to come to our home evening next Monday night?

Mom, can I be in charge of family home evening on Monday? I invited Audrey. I hope that's OK.

... I'll make brownies and . . .

Sounds fun. I'll ask my mom.

To be continued . . .
Mariela came home from school with a frown on her face. “What’s wrong?” Mom asked as she planted flowers in the garden.

“Sonia promised she would play with me, and then she didn’t,” Mariela said. She plopped down in the dirt next to Mom.

“I’m so sorry,” Mom said. “It’s important to keep promises. Next week when you are baptized and confirmed, you will make some very important promises called covenants.”

“Really?” Mariela asked. She was excited to be baptized.

Mom put some yellow flowers in the ground. “You promise to obey the commandments. You also promise to take the name of Jesus Christ upon you. What does Heavenly Father promise if you do these things?”

Mariela thought about what she was learning in Primary. “That I’ll have the Holy Ghost with me.”

“That’s right,” Mom said. “You’ll also become a member of Jesus’s Church. How can you keep your promise to obey the commandments?”

“I can be kind, and I can tell the truth,” Mariela said.

“What does it mean to take Jesus’s name upon me?”

“It means that you try to be like Him and do what He would want you to do,” Mom said. “What can you do to be like Jesus?”

Mariela twirled a purple flower between her fingers. “I can sit with the new girl at school. And I can try to be nice to Sonia,” she said.

“Those are great ideas,” Mom said. “And when you take the sacrament, you can remember your promises.”

Mariela smiled.

“I know another promise—to water the flowers so we can have a beautiful garden!”

The author lives in Utah, USA.
I CAN KEEP MY BAPTISMAL COVENANT

To make a movie about your baptismal covenant, cut out the frame and picture strips. Glue or tape the two picture strips together into one long strip (overlap A and B). Glue or tape the frame and picture strip to heavy paper. Cut along the broken lines on the frame to make two slits. Slide the picture strip through the slits so the pictures show on the front of the frame.

When I am baptized, I promise to keep the commandments.

I promise to remember Jesus Christ and to try to be like Him.

When I take the sacrament, I will remember my promises to Heavenly Father.

When I keep my baptismal covenant, Heavenly Father promises that I will have the Holy Ghost to guide me.

I make promises to Heavenly Father.

I promise to remember Jesus Christ and to try to be like Him.
Celebrating Church History,

“Back then, Church members were encouraged to build the Church in Nauvoo and Utah. Today we build Zion wherever we live.”—Matthew P., age 11, England, who played Peter Ashton

“I felt really special to have the pageant on the grounds of the temple because we could see it all the time. It was like being on a mission, feeling the Spirit in everything we did. I experienced many miracles, and my testimony has grown.”—Caitlin M., age 11, England, who played Emily Partington

“When I acted in the pageant, I felt like it was also my first time to hear about the First Vision, and it made me feel happy and warm inside.”—Leah G., age 10, England, who played Ellie Ashton

In the 1800s the Church was growing in places like Kirtland and Nauvoo. But it was growing across the ocean too! The Prophet Joseph Smith had sent some of the Apostles to England as missionaries. And thousands of people were hearing their message and joining the Church!

Last July, some British children performed in a new pageant to celebrate the history of the Church in their very own country. This month the pageant is being put on in Nauvoo!

Download the music from the British pageant at friend.lds.org!
Preston, England—
When the Apostles first came in 1837, they taught and baptized people in Preston. Today there’s a temple in Preston, and the British Pageant took place right on the temple grounds!

Liverpool, England—
Many missionaries arrived at the busy ocean port of Liverpool. Saints heading to Zion usually left from there too.

Bishopton, Scotland—
Elders Samuel Mulliner and Alexander Wright baptized the first converts in Scotland in 1839.

Herefordshire, England—
While Elder Wilford Woodruff was preaching at the Benbow family farm, a constable (like a police officer) came to arrest him. Elder Woodruff invited the constable to stay and listen. After the meeting, the constable asked to be baptized!

Manchester, England—
In 1840 mission leaders in Manchester started printing The Millennial Star. It was a forerunner of the Church magazines we have today, like the Friend!

Banbridge, Ireland—
In 1840 Thomas Tate, the first convert in Ireland, was baptized in Lochbrickland Lake.

London, England—
Elder Lorenzo Snow presented a special copy of the Book of Mormon to Queen Victoria in 1842.

Llanelli, Wales—
One of the first LDS chapels in the United Kingdom was built here in 1849.
“I will only read and watch things that are pleasing to Heavenly Father and myself” (My Gospel Standards).

What do you want to do today?” Camille asked as she ran inside with her friends Jasmine and Deryn.

“My cousin showed me the funniest video!” Jasmine said. “We should watch it.”

“Awesome!” Camille said as she hurried to tell Mom that her friends were here. “I wonder if I should tell Mom we’re on the computer,” Camille thought. But she was already on her way back to the family room.

By the time she got back, Jasmine had already logged on to her favorite online video site. Deryn and Camille crowded around the computer, and the girls giggled as they watched a puppy chase after a tennis ball. When the video ended, the screen filled with links for other videos.

“Click that one!” Deryn said, pointing to a music video. “I love that singer!”

As the video played, Camille started to feel uncomfortable. She didn’t feel very good about the words or the dancing. She had liked the dog video, but this wasn’t the kind of thing she wanted to watch.

“Let’s watch another one!” Deryn said, and Jasmine clicked another link.

Camille started to feel sick, but Deryn and Jasmine seemed to really like the videos—they were singing along and dancing—so she didn’t say anything while Jasmine and Deryn watched more and more videos.

When her friends went home, Camille wandered back to where Mom was working at her desk. “How are Jasmine and Deryn?” Mom asked.

“They’re good, but…” Camille paused.

Mom raised her eyebrows. “But what? Is something wrong?”

“We started watching videos online,” Camille said. “And at first they were OK, but then we started watching videos I didn’t feel good about. I just wanted to go play, but Jasmine and Deryn wanted to watch more. I didn’t know what to do.” She slumped down in a chair.

“I’m sorry that happened,” Mom said. “The Internet is good for lots of things, but sometimes just one click can take you somewhere you don’t want to be. We can also waste a lot of time without realizing it. What can we do to fix this for next time?” Mom asked.

Camille thought for a second, then said, “Watching a few videos is fine, but maybe after that I could come up with something else for us to do.”

“Great!” Mom said. “And if a video makes you uncomfortable, it’s important to say something. Never be afraid to stand up for yourself.”

“OK,” Camille said.

“That’s how you can do your part. But I can do my part too. How about we make a new family rule? Whenever your friends want to watch videos online, Dad or I have to log you on to the computer and be in the family room with you. That will help keep you and your friends safe. Can you agree to that?”

Camille nodded. “I think I know what to do next time.”

A few days later, Jasmine and Deryn came over after school again. “Hey, I found more music videos,” Deryn said. “We should watch them!”

Camille took a deep breath. “I don’t really like those videos,” she said. “But we can watch something else instead. I’ll go ask my mom to log us in.”

“I can just find them,” Jasmine said.

“No, Mom needs to,” Camille said, “She wants to make sure we watch good things online. And I do too.” She ran off to find Mom. After they’d watched a few videos, they could make smoothies or paint their nails. This way they could all have fun.

One day when my family was at the store, Mama noticed a bad picture on one of the displays. She told a worker that it needed to be removed, and when we passed by again, it was gone. I am glad Mama told the worker, because I don’t want to see bad pictures. I am glad parents protect us from bad things.

Michael P., age 11, Utah, USA

Watch some fun videos at friend.lds.org!
How to Write to the Friend
To send us a letter, drawing, poem, or photograph . . .

1. Fill out the form below and include it with your submission.

2. Include a school photo or high-quality snapshot.

3. We might edit your submission for length or clarity, and we can’t return it to you.

4. You must be at least three years old to send us a submission.

Please send your submission to: Friend Magazine
50 E. North Temple St., Rm. 2432
Salt Lake City, UT 84150-0024
Or email: friend@ldschurch.org

The following information and permission must be included:

First and last name

Age State/Province, Country

I agree to the terms of the Friend Submission Agreement (lds.org/friend/parentalconsent) and grant permission for the Friend to publish my child’s submission and photo in print or online.

Signature of parent or legal guardian

Email of parent or legal guardian

I am glad Heavenly Father sent His Son to create a wonderful place for us to live with so many wonderful things in it.
Amy D., age 10, Utah, USA

What? Mom said to bring lots of water on our hike!

There are can, dirt, cart, girl, tithing involved.

VISIT friend.lds.org!
- Play games and watch videos.
- Read the Friend online.

Funstuff Answers
Page 10: can, dirt, cart, girl, tithing

Hidden CTR Ring
Did you find the ring? Look on page 10!
Glue this page to heavy paper or cardboard. Then cut out the figures and attach them to craft sticks or paper bags. You can use them to help act out your favorite Old Testament stories.
Dear Parents and Teachers,

A priceless treasure we can give our children is a correct understanding of the worth and purpose of physical bodies. You could use the poster on page 24 to start a conversation with your kids about what they are learning and experiencing with their bodies. In a world saturated with confusing and harmful messages about bodies, clear, open, safe communication is more important than ever!

With love,
The Friend

Order the Friend at store.lds.org!

Family Home Evening Ideas

MAKE SOMEONE SMILE: Read “The Parade Prize” (page 4) and talk about how a small act of kindness can brighten someone’s day. Then turn to page 6 for a fun craft and recipe to make together.

OBEDIENCE: On page 2, President Monson shares a message about following the Savior. You can find a family home evening idea that goes along with this topic by visiting lds.org/go/FRPutGodFirst and clicking on “Discuss as a Family.”

PIONEER HISTORY: Read the exciting conclusion of Henry’s trip to Utah (page 12) and talk about the different ways pioneers traveled. How did your family join the Church? Was it a long time ago, or was it recently? Find fun pioneer activities on pages 3, 23, and 35.

BAPTISM: You can learn about this month’s Primary sharing time theme on page 42. You’ll find a short lesson and ideas for talking with your children, along with a fun activity.

Visit “Resources for Teaching Children” at lessonhelps.lds.org for stories, activities, and media to use at home and in Primary.

Find videos and games for kids at friend.lds.org.

Topics in This Issue

Baptism 31, 42
Courage 30
Church history 44
Faith 11
Family 6, 12
Health 24
Holy Ghost 20, 22, 26, 42
Jesus Christ 2, 4, 30, 42
Media 30, 46
Modesty 24
Obedience 2, 20
Old Testament 49
Pioneers 3, 12, 23, 32, 35
Plan of salvation 24
Prayer 20
Profanity 30, 36
Resurrection 24
Sabbath 20
Service 4, 28, 31
Temples 24, 40
Word of Wisdom 24
Work 12

A children’s magazine published by The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints

July 2014