

By President
Dallin H. Oaks

First Counselor in the First
Presidency

Following the PIONEERS

Once I walked along several trails where the early Church pioneers walked on their way to the Salt Lake Valley. I felt very humble to walk where the pioneers walked. But it's not as important to walk where they walked as it is to live like they lived.

The pioneers stepped forward with faith into a new religion, a new land, and a new way of doing things. They trusted God. We need faith too.

They followed what their leaders asked them to do. We need to be obedient too.

They used their talents and worked together to build Zion. We need to be unified too.

They didn't leave anyone behind. They made sure to include those who were having trouble on the trail. We need to be inclusive too.

We can honor the pioneers by following their examples. ●

Adapted from "Following the Pioneers," Ensign, Nov. 1997, 72–74.

I Can Be a Pioneer

Anyone who leads the way to help make life better for others is a pioneer. As you pass through each circle in the maze, read the ways you can be a pioneer!

Start

By learning something new.

By helping start a good tradition.

By doing things to build my eternal family.

By teaching my family about the gospel.

Finish