

Abish

I was converted to God years ago, when my father had a vision. While working for King Lamoni, I helped many people learn about the power of God.

King Lamoni

When I learned about the gospel, I had a vision. I saw Jesus! I shared my testimony with my father and helped rescue missionaries from prison.

Korihor

I tried to convince people that Jesus wasn't real and demanded proof that there was a God. Suddenly I couldn't talk or hear!

Ammon

I'm one of the sons of Mosiah. During my mission, I protected King Lamoni's flocks. I taught King Lamoni and the queen about the gospel.

Anti-Nephi-Lehies

We used to be Lamanites who fought a lot, but we decided to follow God. So we buried our weapons of war and promised never to fight again.

Alma the Younger

I'm named after my father, the prophet. My friends and I made bad choices. But then we repented and became missionaries.

The Queen

I protected my husband when others thought he was dead. After I learned about God, my servant Abish helped me stand and teach others.

Captain Moroni

I was captain of the Nephite army, but I didn't like hurting people. I made the title of liberty to remind people of what was most important to protect.

Stripling Warriors

We learned about faith from our mothers. When we needed to protect our families, we trusted that God would help us. And He did!

Aaron

I'm one of the sons of Mosiah. On my mission, I taught the father and mother of King Lamoni. Then they created laws protecting missionaries in their lands.

Amalickiah

I wanted to be king so badly! I poisoned the Lamanite chief and took over his army. I tried to convince people to fight and hurt each other.

The Mayservant

When someone hurt me, I was brave enough to tell someone about it and ask for help. I worked with Captain Moroni to protect his people.
