

HELLO from Samoa!

Talofa!
We're Margo and Paolo.
Join us as we visit Samoa!

Samoa is an island country in the Pacific Ocean. It has two main islands and four smaller islands.

Many people in Samoa live in fales, which are houses without walls. People cook over a fire outside.

Many Samoan people love to sing! These children are getting ready to sing in Primary.

○ LE EKALEZIA A
IESU KERISO
○ LE AU PAIA ○ ASO
E GATA AI

Here's how to say
"The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints" in Samoan.

Lots of people raise pigs and chickens and use dogs for hunting.

Coconuts are a popular food in Samoa. Everyone helps harvest them and remove the outer covering. The shells are often burned as fuel for cooking fires.

Meet some of our friends from Samoa!

Thanks for exploring Samoa with us. See you next time!

Because they live on islands, Samoans are never far from the ocean!

I love to sing Primary songs. My favorites are "Mother, Tell Me the Story" and "I Am a Child of God."

Mary V., age 5, Savai'i, Samoa

I know Heavenly Father hears and answers my prayers.

Alex S., age 11, Upolu, Samoa

Are you from Samoa?
Write to us!
We'd love to hear from you.

ILLUSTRATIONS BY KATIE MCDEE; PHOTOGRAPH OF PIGS FROM GETTY IMAGES