

Meet some of our friends from South Africal

Children and adults love to play a game called mancala. It's a counting game where you move pebbles, seeds, or marbles from one cup to another. It's one of the oldest games in the world!

Pap is a popular food in South Africa that's made from ground corn. People eat it for breakfast with milk and sugar, or for dinner with meat or tomato stew.

