

Sandbox Sounds

By Jennifer Maddy

Three  friends play in the  sandbox. Brynn drops  pebbles into a  bucket and hears “plink, plunk!” Brynn shakes the  bucket. “Rattle, rattle!” say the  pebbles. Ezra scoops  sand with his  shovel. “Shoosh, shoosh,” goes the  sand. Mia taps the side of the  sandbox with two  sticks. “Tap, tap!” beat the  sticks. The three  friends play a song. “Rattle, rattle!” say the  pebbles. “Shoosh, shoosh,” goes the  sand. “Tap, tap!” beat the  sticks. “What should we call our song?” asks Brynn. “How about ‘Sandbox Sounds?’” says Ezra. “Perfect!” says Mia. “Rattle, rattle, shoosh, shoosh, tap, tap!” sings the  sandbox.

Finding Sounds

Heavenly Father gave us ears to hear all kinds of sounds. What sounds do you think these things could make? What things can you find at your house that would make fun sounds?
