

A photograph of a weathered wooden door set in a stone wall. The door is made of vertical wooden planks and has a black metal strap across its top and bottom. A small hole is visible in the stone wall to the right of the door. The wall is made of light-colored, rough-hewn stones. There is some green foliage growing on the wall above the door.

EACH OF US IS AN INNKEEPER WHO DECIDES IF
THERE IS ROOM
FOR JESUS!

Elder Neal A. Maxwell (1926-2004),
"Settle This in Your Hearts," Oct. 1992
general conference