Grateful for Parents

A cartoon illustration of a yellow streetcar with a blue stripe. A driver in a blue uniform and cap is visible through the windshield. A young man in a white shirt and grey pants is walking up the steps to board the streetcar, carrying a blue folder. A yellow circle is overlaid on the left side of the streetcar.

Have you ever had to wait for something good to happen? What can help you while you wait?

All eight of my great-grandparents joined the Church in Europe. They were very faithful in the Church. After that, some of my ancestors didn't keep living the gospel. Because of this, my parents didn't go to church very much when I was a child.

I loved my parents. They taught me very important lessons. I can't thank them enough for our happy home. But even as a boy, I knew I was missing something because our family didn't go to church very much. One day I rode a streetcar to a bookstore to find a book about the Church. I loved learning about the gospel.

When I learned about the Word of Wisdom, I realized my parents weren't living the way it teaches us to live. But I wanted them to! So one day, I broke every bottle of alcohol in my home on the concrete floor! I thought my father would punish me, but he never said anything to me about it.

As I got older, I kept learning about the gospel. I began to understand Heavenly Father's beautiful plan. I got baptized when I was 16 years old. At Christmastime, I often said to myself, "I don't want one more Christmas present! I just want to be sealed to my parents in the temple." I waited many years for that dream to come true. When my parents were over 80 years old, we were finally sealed as a family! I felt great joy that day. Each day, I still feel so happy that they were sealed together and that I was sealed to them. ●
