Family Home Evening Ideas

This issue contains articles and activities that could be used for family home evening. The following are two ideas.

"Family History—I Am Doing It," page 58: Host a journaling activity! Encourage family members to record anything about their life—a memory from years ago or something that happened to them that day. Help your family understand that there are many ways to journal. They can write, type, or draw their journal entry, or they can even record themselves telling a story with a voice recorder. Encourage your family to continue recording in their journals often.

"Learning More about What's in Store," page 64: Consider holding a mission preparation activity like the ward in Norway did. You can teach the same things they did—such as how to start gospel conversations or how to iron a white shirt—or you can focus on other skills you think your family members would benefit from in the mission field.

IN YOUR LANGUAGE

The Liahona and other Church materials are available in many languages at languages.lds.org.
