

Passing along God's Love

By Allie B., age 12, Kentucky, USA

A little while ago my family and I moved to Kentucky. I was really upset because I was leaving all my friends and extended family behind. Kentucky was very different from what I was used to. The first time we went to church, I saw that there weren't very many people there. When I realized how small my branch was, I decided that instead of thinking bad about it, I would do something about it.

The next day, my mom and I went to the store. Before we left the house, I grabbed a stack of pass-along cards. When we got to the store, I got a candy bar and went to check out. The cashier scanned the candy, then handed it to me. I handed it back. She looked confused and said, "You just paid for this, ma'am."

I said, "I know, but I'm giving this to you as a gift." Then I put a pass-along card with the candy. She smiled and thanked me. She looked at the back of the pass-along card, where I had written, "Everyone is a child of God." I walked away with happiness, knowing that even if she didn't join the Church, I still did something good.

Later that day, I remembered that I left the rest of the pass-along cards by the cash register! The next time we went to the store, I went to ask if they were still there. Then I saw something, and I stopped in my steps. About five of the cash registers had pass-along cards that said, "Everyone is a child of God." The cashier had passed them out! I felt so happy because of what I did. ■
