When I go to church, I feel the Spirit of God and the love I have for Him and for my Savior, Jesus Christ. I love my Redeemer.

Ayana B., age 7, France

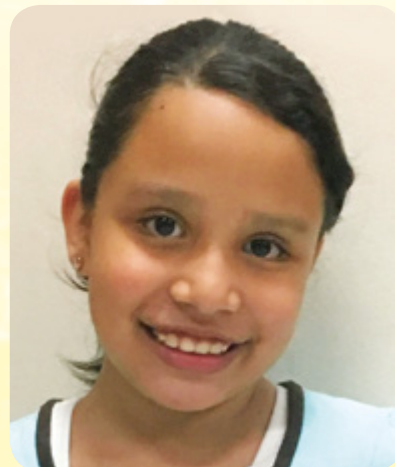

I love being at the temple with my family. It is a beautiful place where I will be able to go when I am 12. It is the house of the Lord.

I enjoy sharing the gospel at school with my friends, especially with a boy who has difficulty speaking, writing, and reading. One way to share the gospel as Jesus Christ taught is by helping and serving others. Whenever the teacher gives us an assignment in the homework book, I am always willing to help this boy. I love serving others because it helps me feel my Heavenly Father's love.
