

Paul's Missionary Journeys

By Marissa Widdison

After Jesus was resurrected, the Apostle Paul traveled to different lands to teach people about Jesus. There were no cars or airplanes back then, so he walked a lot! Sometimes he traveled by ship.

Paul taught people in churches and homes. He taught people on rocky hilltops and city streets.

Many people didn't like what Paul taught. Sometimes Paul got sent to prison. Sometimes Paul got sick.

But through all these hard things, Paul had faith. He said, "I can do all things through Christ." He knew Jesus would help him be strong.

Jesus Christ can help me be strong too. He loves me, and I love Him! ●
