

Paul's Letters

By Marissa Widdison
Church Magazines

The Apostle Paul helped lead the Church after Jesus died. Back then, there were no telephones or internet. So Paul wrote letters to members of the Church.

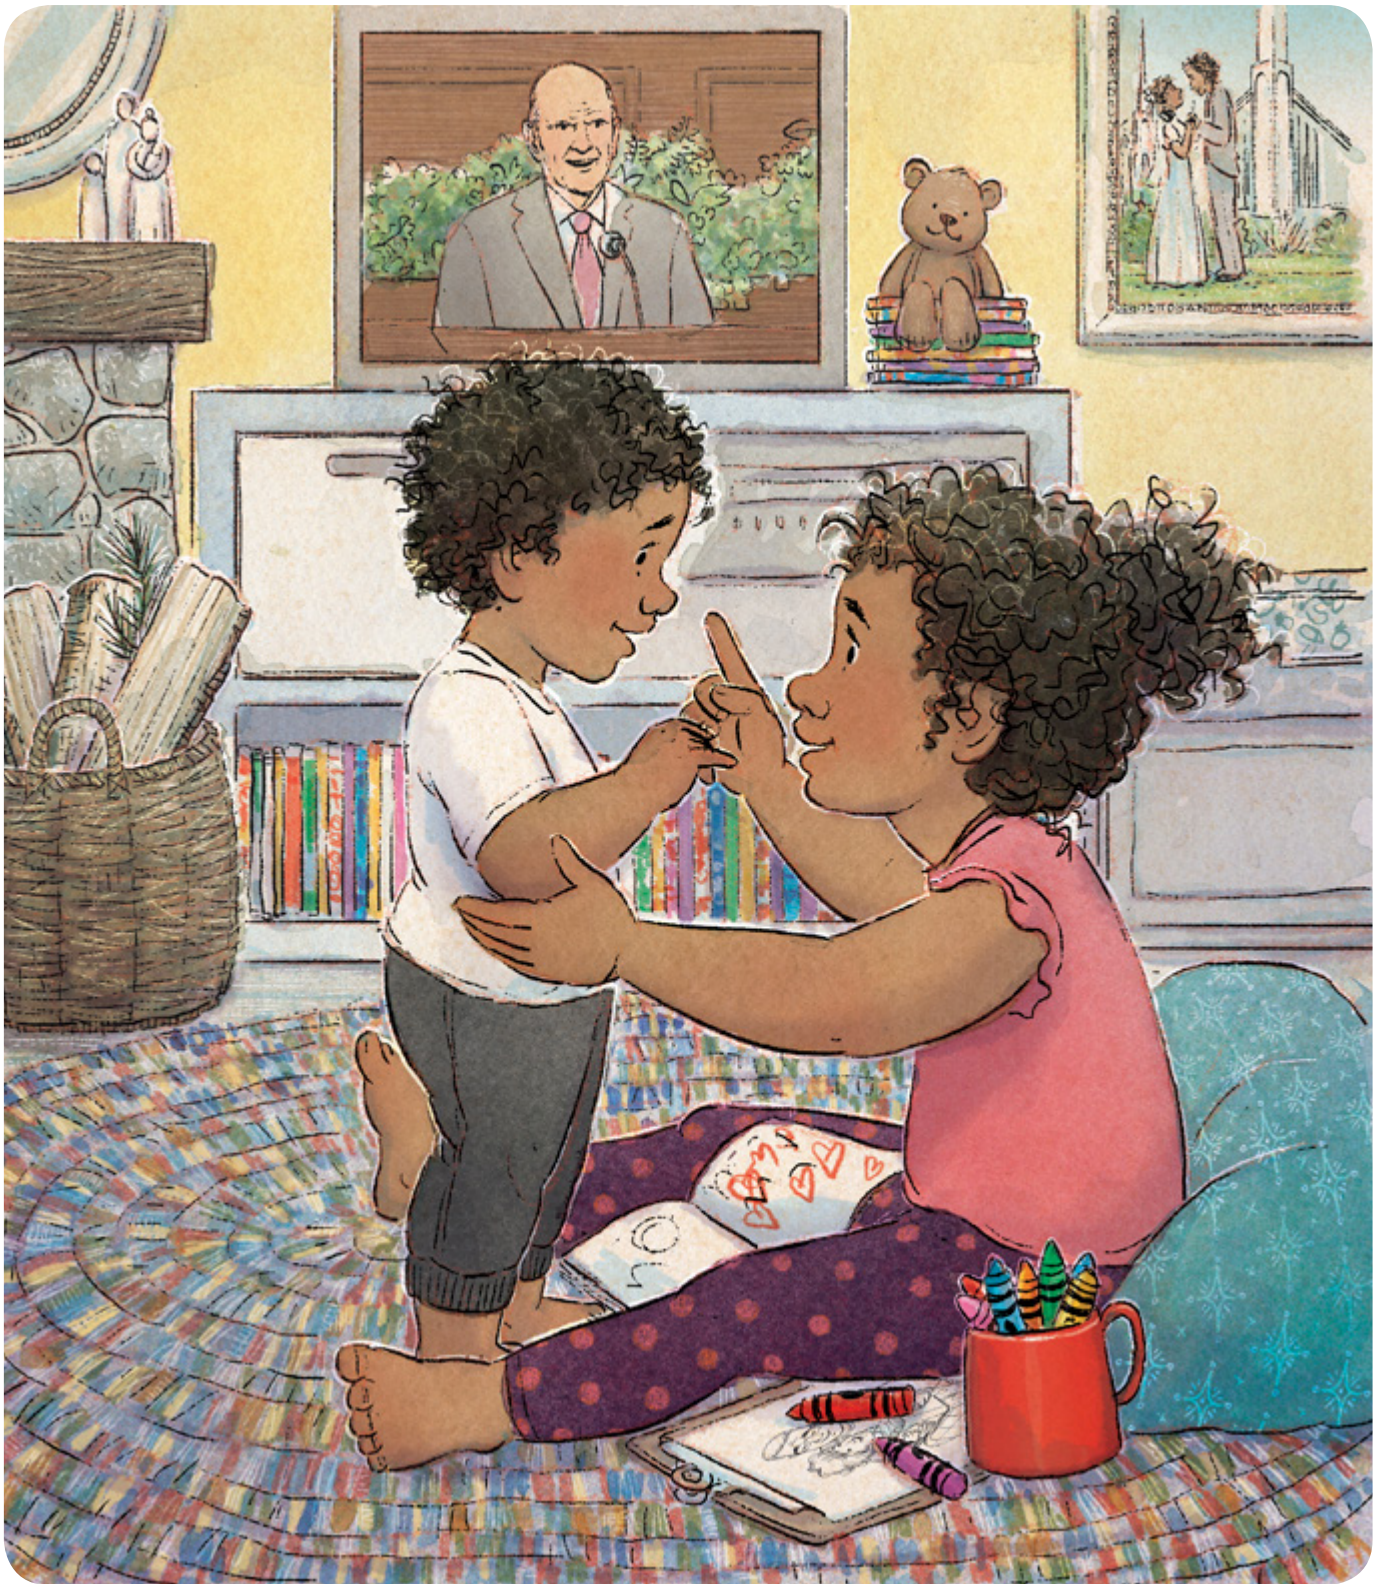

Paul wrote to people in the city of Corinth. He told them to forgive others. He told them to be patient. He wrote about Jesus.

Paul wrote to people in a place called Galatia. He told them to love their neighbors. He told them what the Spirit feels like.

Paul's letters were so important that they became part of the Bible. You can read them in the New Testament.

I can learn from Paul's teachings. I will listen to what the prophet and apostles teach today! ●
