What's in a Name?

Below is a scripture that explains why we sometimes are a little particular about what people call us. The letters have been replaced by other letters. See if you can figure it out.

A Riddle, Brain Food

One morning, while in the wilderness, Sariah noticed that some of the food had disappeared from their provisions overnight. Unfortunately, last night's rainstorm made it very dark and washed away any traces of footprints, so she couldn't tell who took it. She asked each of her sons what he was doing after bedtime last night. Sam said he was futilely trying to get sand out of his clothes. Laman said he was just looking at the stars. Lemuel said he was doing whatever Laman was doing. Nephi said he was planning out what he would do if he had to go back to Jerusalem one more time.

Sariah then told Laman and Lemuel that they had to go without breakfast. How did she know it was them?

But the dance is next week! I thought John wanted me to practice with him!

He said practicing with his mom would be too embarrassing!
