Now We’ll Sing with One Accord

Text: William W. Phelps, 1792–1872. Included in the first
LDS hymnbook, 1835.
Music: Joseph J. Daynes 1851–1920

Now we’ll sing with one accord, For a prophet of the Lord,
And an angel surely then, For a blessing unto men,
And the Book of Mormon true, With its covenant ever new,
Precious are the years to come, While the righteous gather home.

Bring ing forth his precious word, Cheers the Saints as anciently,
Brought the priesthood back again In its ancient purity,
For the Gentile and the Jew, He translated sacredly.
For the great millennium, When they’ll rest in blessedness.

When the world in darkness lay, Lo! he sought the better way,
Even Joseph he inspired; Yea, his heart he truly fired
God’s commandments to mankind, For believing Saints designed,
Prudent in this world of woes, They will triumph o’er their foes.

And he heard the Savior say, “Go and prune my vineyard, son!”
With the light that he desired For the work of righteous-ness.
And to bless the seeking mind, Came to him from Jesus Christ.
While the realm of Zion grows Purer for eternity.
